

VILLA MARCHING INTO A TRAP

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., March 21.—Twice defeated in one day by Carranza soldiers who stood the test and baffled his attempts to escape, Francisco Villa rallied his forces and was reported today as marching toward the northwest from Namiquipa. If he continues along this route he will come directly into the jaws of the trap formed by three columns of American cavalry.

Unless Villa, by one of the dashing maneuvers for which he is famous, doubles on his tracks and escapes between the American and Carranza soldiers who hem him in it is expected that before night he will be making his last fight.

The American cavalry, though worn by its rapid march into Mexico, is reported in advices received at General Gaviro's headquarters in Juarez, to have been sent forward at a still faster pace to join battle with Villa's band. Aeroplanes sent forward from Columbus are said to be flying over Villa's forces and making frequent reports to General Pershing as to the movements of Villa and his forces.

The International News Service announced Monday that Villa had divided his followers into two bands. This was officially confirmed later by the reports received by General Gaviro. One of the bands was defeated at Las Cruces Monday morning by the Carranzistas. The other was whipped at Namiquipa in the late afternoon.

During the night, according to the Carranza reports on the engagements, the bandits vanquished at Las Cruces in a two hour battle effected a junction with the losers of the Namiquipa conflict to the northwest of Namiquipa, only 25 miles from the leading American column.

General Gaviro believes that Villa's movement toward the points from which the American troops were advancing was with the hope of reaching an ancient trail a few miles north of Namiquipa by which he could double back toward Babicora.

The Villistas defeated at Las Cruces were led by the bandit chief Llanos in person. Villa is said to have had with him about 800 men. They were opposed by 900 Carranzistas. The battle was fought on the banks of the Santa Maria river, which Villa was attempting to cross. The Carranzistas held good positions and were able to repulse three different assaults. When the Villistas' attacks weakened the Carranza troops took the offensive and drove Villa's forces into headlong retreat.

Villa's force in the Las Cruces battle was larger than that which he had with him in the Columbus raid. He had gathered in many volunteers during his retreat from the border. Though practically as strong as the Carranzista leader, that confronted him on the Santa Maria, Villa is said to have wished to avoid conflict at that time, but was forced by his own men. Most of his recruits had been gathered with the promise of a fight with American troops. Villa had boasted that he could whip the whole American army.

Villa's characteristic tactics call for a swift, sure stroke, a surprise attack. But the Carranzistas were prepared. They began to fire as soon as Villa's horsemen came in sight. When the Villistas finally fled the Carranzista commander immediately sent dispatches to General Gaviro in Juarez reporting a decisive victory over the Villa force.

The Carranzistas' position at Namiquipa is part of the trap set in the campaign plan of General Gaviro, who outlined the plan last week to the correspondent of the International News Service during a visit at the Juarez headquarters.

Carranza garrisons form a rough triangle, the peak of which is at Chihuahua. The American troops from the north were chasing Villa into this narrowing line of Carranza soldiers when the Las Cruces fight began.

The American soldiers are in three detachments, but they are operating closely. One of these started for the Lake Babicora district. The others started in one column from Casas Grandes and divided at Galeana, southeast of Casas Grandes. One detachment pressed forward to Las Cruces, the other branching off and covering the trail from Las Cruces to Babicora.

General Pershing is in constant touch with his three detachments. The advance of the American troops makes almost imperative the use of the Mexican Northwestern line, according to army officers here. They were pleased today by reports that General Carranza would consent to the use of the railroad. Las Cruces is approximately 200 miles from the border and the transportation of supplies and ammunition to that point was a problem which might hamper the work of pursuing Villa should he be able to escape a decisive battle. If Villa does escape capture or death at this stage the aero squadron which is now with General Pershing's command will play an important part in locating the fleeing bandits, as well as the relays of horses Villa has cached away in the hills. It is the boast of Villa that he can take a body of 1,000 men 400 feet off any main trail in this country and hide them from a whole army. The aeroplanes will prevent this.

AUSTRIA ADMITS RUSSIAN SUCCESS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Vienna, via Berlin, wireless, March 21.—After a gallant defense of six months by Austro-Hungarian troops, Usciecko, on the Dneister river, north of Czernowitz, has been captured by the Russians. It was admitted today by the Austrian war office.

The Russians have also gained a crossing of the Dneister at that point.

The Austro-Hungarian commander evacuated the forts northwest of the town to avoid useless losses from the Russian artillery which was carrying out a violent bombardment of the place.

The attack on Usciecko was part of the general drive by the Russians on the southern end of the battle front by which they hoped to open up a path through Bukovina.

FUNSTON HOPES FOR EARLY SUCCESS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
San Antonio, Tex., March 21.—Major General Funston is now hopeful that the pursuit of Francisco Villa will reach a successful conclusion much sooner than had been expected when General Pershing's expedition started. Villa's destruction would be assured, according to the military officials here, if General Carranza would grant American troops the privilege of using Mexican railways. General Funston is hopeful that the first chief will soon act on the American government's request.

Funston is anxious that the American troops' task be completed at the earliest possible moment, for two reasons.

1.—The agreement between the American and Mexican governments is said to provide that the American troops shall be withdrawn from Mexico if Villa's trail is lost.

2.—It is difficult to make the American soldiers obey all the regulations necessary to prevent sickness. Typhoid fever is raging south of the border. Typhoid is also a peril, pure drinking water being almost unobtainable.

General Funston announced today that the censorship which has hidden the movements along the border would be greatly modified.

"There is no need for the strictest censorship now," he said. "Villa is so far south of the border that American newspapers cannot reach him. I have directed General Pershing by wireless to give the correspondents more liberty and facilities."

ARRESTED FOR SUNDAY SELLING

Jacob Seller, a kosher butcher with a store at Chambers and East Pierpont street, was arrested on Monday afternoon on a warrant sworn out by William E. Davis, of No. 26 South Wall street, charging Seller with Sabbath breaking in selling meat to him on Sunday.

This morning Mr. Seller was arraigned before Recorder Lang in recorder's court and the charge read to him. The court informed Seller of his rights and advised him to secure a lawyer. In order that witnesses might be subpoenaed the trial was adjourned to Friday afternoon.

This is the first time it is said that Seller had been in trouble. The evidence against him was secured by the man who swore out the warrant, Mr. Davis, who alleged that he went in Seller's store on Sunday and purchased a pound of steak.

Mr. Seller said this morning that he did not sell meat on Sunday. It is expected that the trial will be a lively one.

The subject for his sermon is "The Soul and Its Saviour." There will be congregational singing. Christian men of all denominations are welcome.

FAIL TO SUPPRESS MR. WARD'S LETTER

Here is the Correspondence the Local Branch of the American Independence Union Refused to Give to the Newspapers.

Discussion of a letter from Representative Charles B. Ward, in which he defended his action in voting to table the McElmore resolution warning Americans from taking passage on armed merchant ships was the principal business before the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union, which met Monday night at the Hotel Eichler, Railroad avenue. Twenty-eight persons were present and the Rev. Frederick P. Wilhelm, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, presided.

In his letter which was read Sunday afternoon before the mass meeting in the Casino, Congressman Ward declared that his vote was dictated solely by patriotic consideration, and that he believed in following established precedent and permitting the president to assume sole responsibility for the conduct of foreign affairs. The text of the letter was withheld from the press as members of the society said they regarded it as a confidential communication.

Incidentally they intimated a belief in their ability to win the congressman over to their side of the argument in which event it would hardly do to have newspaper files recording his opposite position. A set of resolutions favoring congressional action on foreign affairs was passed and was considered as a sufficient answer.

In speaking of the letter, the Rev. Wilhelm stated his belief that there must be one head over our foreign relations but he asserted that that one head "should have an open mind." He further demanded that more publicity should attach to our diplomatic affairs which, while to a certain extent secret, should be sufficiently public to enable the people to intelligently weigh all problems.

Request for Information.

After the officers of the union had refused publicity to Congressman Ward's letter so that the people might intelligently weigh that together with the resolutions, The Freeman decided to obtain a copy elsewhere, which is herewith presented, together with the letter of the union asking the explanation:

March 9th, 1916.
Hon. Charles B. Ward, M. C., Washington, D. C.

My Dear Congressman: We were keenly disappointed at not finding your name among the 132 Republican congressmen who voted against tabling the McElmore resolution, but among the 64 Republican congressmen who voted in favor of tabling it. Whilst we gladly assume that in casting your vote as you did you were moved by patriotic considerations we are at a loss when seeking to find and formulate them.

On Sunday, March 19th, we shall hold our sixth mass meeting in Kingston at which Jeremiah A. O'Leary, Esq., of New York City, and the Rev. John P. Neumann, rector of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, will be the chief speakers. May I be permitted to suggest to you that you write a letter addressed either to the undersigned, or to the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union, under whose auspices the mass meeting will be conducted, in which you explain to a large number of your constituents why you voted as you did.

We should also like to inquire whether you received our two recent telegrams in re armed merchantmen?

Very sincerely yours,
FREDERICK P. WILHELM,
Chairman of the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union.

The Congressman's Reply.

March 14, 1916.
Mr. Frederick P. Wilhelm,
Chairman, Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union,
Kingston, N. Y.

My Dear Mr. Wilhelm: I beg to acknowledge receipt of your esteemed letter of March 9th and assure you that the same has had my very careful consideration. You are correct in assuming that in casting my vote in favor of House Resolution 147, commonly called the McElmore resolution, I was prompted by patriotic considerations and it is a matter of regret to me that my vote as recorded should be disappointing to any of my constituents.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the McElmore resolution as presented to the House called for the vote on the single issue of whether or not the executive branch of the government should be continued in sole control of foreign affairs according to the precedent of our government. On March 4th the Committee on Foreign Affairs reported the McElmore resolution to the House with the following recommendation:

"That House resolution 147, known as the McElmore resolution, be reported to the House with the recommendation that it do lie on the table. Under the practices and precedents of this country the conduct of diplomatic negotiations has been left to the president, and with this practice the committee does not feel it proper for the House of Representatives to interfere. We have confidence that if the president reaches a point in any negotiations with foreign gov-

ARTHUR WOODS & MISS HELEN M. HAMILTON.
NIECE OF J. P. MORGAN TO WED NEW YORK POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Arthur Woods and Miss Helen Morgan Hamilton.
New York, March 21.—The engagement of Miss Helen Morgan Hamilton, niece of J. P. Morgan, and a great-great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton, to Police Commissioner Arthur Woods, has been announced.

Miss Hamilton, who is 29 years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierson Hamilton; her mother is a sister of J. P. Morgan, and her father is a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan. She was introduced into society in October, 1914.

Commissioner Woods is 45 years old. He is the son of Joseph W. Woods, a pioneer in cotton goods industries in Boston. After graduating from Harvard in 1892, he spent a year at Heidelberg University. He then taught school for ten years at Groton, Mass. He taught English and English literature, and went on a special mission to the Philippines for the government and spent some time in traveling.

In 1907 he returned to New York, and for a year was a reporter on the Evening Sun. He was chosen by the Citizens' Committee to study police conditions. Police Commissioner Bingham sent him abroad to study police methods in Scotland Yard and elsewhere. On his return he was appointed Fourth Deputy Police Commissioner, a place created especially for him.

When Commissioner Bingham left office, Commissioner Woods also resigned. He went to Mexico for a year as the head of a lumber company.

In the Mitchell mayoralty campaign Woods served as publicity manager for Mitchell. He was appointed secretary to the mayor January 1, 1914. On April 8, 1914, he was appointed police commissioner.

Comments on which he has exhausted his power in the premises he will in the usual way report all facts and circumstances to congress for consideration.

Whatever way the McElmore resolution may be construed the question that in fact it put to the congress to vote on (under the construction by which it was brought) was whether or not there was to be an abridgement by congress of the recognized powers of the executive.

I believe that the people of this country do not want war and although I shall always be loyal to constituted authority in the United States it is my aim to do my part so far as I can in avoiding with honor, the plunging of this country needlessly in the European war.

The telegrams which you referred to in your letter were duly received.

Assuring you that at all times your opinion will be received with greatest consideration and thanking you for your past courtesies, I am,
Most sincerely yours,
CHARLES B. WARD.

"Bull" Popular Withal.

Following re-adoption of the resolutions which were passed by a rising vote of between 300 and 400 men at Sunday's meeting when it was decided to pass them first and discuss them afterward, there was a discussion of a new magazine just being issued styled "Bull."

This is the product of some of the allied, not allies, workers in the cause which the union represents and on motion of the Rev. Howard E. Snyder, it was voted to extend sympathy to "Bull" and its objects but that a subscription would not be possible at this time. The prospectus showed that 4,000 shares of stock were to be offered the public at $10 a share, the 51 per cent remaining to be controlled by the promoters.

Thanks Given to Press.

Eight new members were received, making a total of 75 members in the branch. Michael A. Reis was chosen as treasurer to succeed C. Wismer, who is leaving the city. In the place of Mr. Reis as vice president, the Rev. John P. Neumann, rector of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, was chosen. Mr. Reis, William Isemann and J. Stumpf were named as an auditing committee.

A total of $96.30 was reported as receipts for Sunday's meeting and expenses were about $78. The president declared that the work of raising the funds showed plainly "that the union was not being financed by the Kaiser or anybody else." The only note of war during the evening was caused by the popping of a single cork.

The press of the city was thanked for advance notices of meetings and for its report of the same, the report of The Freeman being especially commended for its fairness. The wicked newspaper men are all in New York in the opinion of one of the speakers.

The Resolutions.

The resolutions which were passed are as follows:

Whereas, in our United States we have, and of a right ought to have, a government of the people, by the people and for the people; and

Whereas, it is not only the Constitutional right, but also the

PRIZE FOR BEST AUTO SHOW EXHIBIT

The management of the Kingston Automobile Show to be held at the armory March 30, 31 and April 1, has decided to give a prize of $30 to the exhibitor who makes the finest display. In the event of the committee not being able to agree, the prize is to be equally divided between six local charitable institutions: The Kingston City Hospital, Benedictine Sanitarium, Industrial Home, Home of the Holy Childhood, Kingston City Library, and the Bureau of Social Service.

In order that the public may be convinced that no one exhibitor will be favored before the prize is awarded, the following disinterested persons have been selected as the committee who will award the prize: Rev. John J. Hickey, representing the Home of the Holy Childhood; Major George Chandler, of the Kingston City Hospital staff; Dr. William J. O'Leary, of the Benedictine Sanitarium staff; Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wagoner, treasurer of the Industrial Home; Mrs. Laura B. MacMillan, secretary of the Bureau of Social Service, and Prof. M. J. Michael, president of the Kingston Library Association.

Undoubtedly there will be great strife on the part of the dealers to win the coveted prize but in the event of the failure of the committee to unanimously agree, the treasurer of the show will be obliged to send a check to each of the above named institutions for its share. The outcome of the award will be awaited with interest.

The speakers who will deliver addresses at the armory on the three nights of the show are: Judge William D. Cunningham, of the court of claims; Hon. Albert Callan of Valatie, author of the famous automobile law which bears his name, and both of whom will speak on the last night of the show, Governor Whitman, the principal speaker at the opening night of the exhibition, Secretary of State Francis M. Hugo, and Mayor Canfield, who will officially open the show on Thursday night.

HURLEY AVENUE PLANS ACCEPTED BY B.P.W.

Concrete Road to be Laid on Hurley Avenue From Washington Avenue to Snyder Avenue—Work to be Started This Year.

The board of public works held a special session on Monday afternoon at the city hall to consider the plans for the proposed Hurley avenue improvement. The plans were received that day from the state highway department. The plans were examined by the board and City Engineer Codwise and County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran, and were accepted with a few minor changes.

The plans call for a concrete road from Washington avenue to Snyder avenue with a width of thirty-two feet. The state pays for sixteen feet of the roadway while the city pays for the remaining sixteen feet. The state expected to lay the road from Washington avenue to the city line, a width of sixteen feet, but the city thought it advisable to have it laid the full width of the street as far out as Snyder avenue, and to let the state highway department include the extra width of the roadway in its plans to be submitted to contractors for bids. From Snyder avenue to the city line the road will be sixteen feet wide, which will be paid for by the state.

From what can be learned it is expected to submit the plans for the work as soon as possible so that work can be done this year. No other business was brought to the attention of the board and an adjournment was taken.

BRITISH VICTORY IN NORTH SEA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 21.—Three German torpedo destroyers were defeated in a running battle with four British vessels of the same type off the Belgian coast on Monday. Official announcement of the battle, the first sea clash in the North Sea for many months, was issued by the admiralty today.

The German destroyers fled to the German naval base established at Zeebrugge, but two of them were hit by shots from the pursuing British vessels. Four British sailors were wounded.

The admiralty's statement follows: "Yesterday morning four British destroyers sighted three German destroyers off the Belgian coast. The Germans immediately turned and ran for Zeebrugge, chased by us. Shots were exchanged during a running fight. Two of the enemy's boats were hit. Our casualties were four wounded."

AUTOMOBILES MAY ENTER CEMETERY

Many cemeteries throughout the country exclude auto hearses and automobiles from the cemetery grounds, requiring caskets to be taken from auto hearses at the cemetery entrance, and carried to the grave on a hand truck, the reason being that cemetery roads are without sidewalks, and that the honking of automobile horns in cemeteries is unseemly. The trustees of Wiltwyck at their annual meeting at Judge Clearwater's office on Monday, however, adopted the following regulations:

First—That automobiles and automobile hearses be permitted to enter the cemetery upon the following conditions, and restrictions:

They shall enter on Pine Grove avenue, follow the main tour, and leave by it, and shall not enter upon other roads, streets or paths unless specially permitted by the superintendent.

Second—They shall not be permitted in the cemetery after sunset, or on Sunday, Decoration Day, the Fourth of July, and Labor Day, unless attending a funeral.

Third—The owners or drivers of auto hearses and taxicabs shall register at the superintendent's office, and obtain permits from him, and shall not drive faster than five miles an hour.

Fourth—Any person driving or in charge of an auto hearse or automobile, who in any way causes it to enter upon any lot, or to leave the regular roads of the cemetery, shall summarily thereafter be excluded from the cemetery by the superintendent, who is hereby authorized to exclude any and all such persons without further direction from the board.

Chaplain Jones to Lecture.

Members of Kingston Lodge No. 550, B. P. O. E., will have an opportunity to become posted on preparedness Thursday evening when a lecture will be given by the Rev. H. W. Jones, A. M., D. D., who was chaplain on the U. S. battleship Texas during the war with Spain. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock following the regular session of the lodge. Organizations before whom the Rev. Dr. Jones has been heard, speak highly of his vivid description of the Texas under fire and the destruction of Cervera's fleet off Santiago, of which he was an eye witness.

Rev. Mr. Voight Not to Return.

Newburgh dispatches state that the hope of returning the Rev. W. W. Voight to Trinity Methodist Church in that city has practically been abandoned when word was received from one high in church councils to the effect that a newly ordained preacher could not be considered under any condition for the Trinity Church pulpit, which is one of the best in the conference. The Rev. Mr. Voight is not yet fully ordained but may be ordained such at the coming conference. Previous to going as a supply pastor to Trinity Church he was filling a supply appointment at Accord.

Here is the Correspondence the Local Branch of the American Independence Union Refused to Give to the Newspapers.

Discussion of a letter from Representative Charles B. Ward, in which he defended his action in voting to table the McLeMore resolution warning Americans from taking passage on armed merchant ships was the principal business before the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union, which met Monday night at the Hotel Eichler, Railroad avenue. Twenty-eight persons were present and the Rev. Frederick P. Wilhelm, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church, presided.

In his letter which was read Sunday afternoon before the mass meeting in the Casino, Congressman Ward declared that his vote was dictated solely by patriotic consideration, and that he believed in following established precedent and permitting the president to assume sole responsibility for the conduct of foreign affairs. The text of the letter was withheld from the press as officers of the society said they regarded it as a confidential communication.

Incidentally they intimated a belief in their ability to win the congressman over to their side of the argument in which event it would hardly do to have newspaper files recording the opposite position. A set of resolutions favoring congressional action on foreign affairs was passed and was considered as a sufficient answer.

In speaking of the letter, the Rev. Wilhelm stated his belief that there must be one head over our foreign relations but he asserted that that one head "should have an open mind." He further demanded that more publicity should attach to our diplomatic affairs which, while to a certain extent secret, should be sufficiently public to enable the people to intelligently weigh all problems.

Request for Information.
After the officers of the union had refused publicity to Congressman Ward's letter so that the people might intelligently weigh that together with the resolutions, The Freeman decided to obtain a copy elsewhere, which is herewith presented, together with the letter of the union asking the explanation:

March 8th, 1916.
Hon. Charles B. Ward, M. C., Washington, D. C.
My Dear Congressman:

We were deeply disappointed at not finding your name among the 132 Republican congressmen who voted against tabling the McLeMore resolution, but among the 64 Republican congressmen who voted in favor of tabling it. Whilst we gladly assume that in casting your vote as you did you were moved by patriotic considerations we are at a loss when seeking to find and formulate them.

On Sunday, March 19th, we shall hold our sixth mass meeting in Kingston at which Jeremiah A. O'Leary, Esq., of New York city, and the Rev. John P. Neumann, rector of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, will be the chief speakers. May I be permitted to suggest to you that you write a letter addressed either to the undersigned, or to the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union, under whose auspices the mass meeting will be conducted, in which you explain to a large number of your constituents why you voted as you did.

We should also like to inquire whether you received our two recent telegrams in re armed merchantmen?

Very sincerely yours,
FREDERICK P. WILHELM,
Chairman of the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union.

The Congressman's Reply.
March 14, 1916.
Mr. Frederick P. Wilhelm,
Chairman, Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union,
Kingston, N. Y.

My Dear Mr. Wilhelm:
I beg to acknowledge receipt of your esteemed letter of March 8th and assure you that the same has had my very careful consideration. You are correct in assuming that in casting my vote in favor of House Resolution 147, commonly called the McLeMore resolution, I was prompted by patriotic considerations and it is a matter of regret to me that my vote as recorded should be disappointing to any of my constituents.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that the McLeMore resolution as presented to the House called for the vote on the single issue of whether or not the executive branch of the government should be continued in sole control of foreign affairs according to the precedent of our government. On March 4th the Committee on Foreign Affairs reported the McLeMore resolution to the House with the following recommendation:

"That House resolution 147, known as the McLeMore resolution, be reported to the House with the recommendation that it do lie on the table. Under the practices and precedents of this country the conduct of diplomatic negotiations has been left to the president, and with this practice the committee does not feel it proper for the House of Representatives to interfere. We have confidence that if the president reaches a point in any negotiations with foreign gov-

ARTHUR WOODS & MISS HELEN M. HAMILTON.
NIECE OF J. P. MORGAN TO WED NEW YORK POLICE COMMISSIONER.

Arthur Woods and Miss Helen Morgan Hamilton.
New York, March 21.—The engagement of Miss Helen Morgan Hamilton, niece of J. P. Morgan, and a great-great-granddaughter of Alexander Hamilton, to Police Commissioner Arthur Woods, has been announced.

Miss Hamilton, who is 20 years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierson Hamilton; her mother is a sister of J. P. Morgan, and her father is a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan. She was introduced into society in October, 1914.

Commissioner Woods is 45 years old. He is the son of Joseph W. Woods, a pioneer in cotton goods industries in Boston. After graduating from Harvard in 1892, he spent a year at Heidelberg University.

He then taught school for ten years at Groton, Mass. He taught English and English literature. He went on a special mission to the Philippines for the government and spent some time in travelling. In 1907 he returned to New York, and for a year was a reporter on the Evening Sun.

He was chosen by the Citizens' Committee to study police conditions. Police Commissioner Bingham sent him abroad to study police methods in Scotland Yard and elsewhere. On his return he was appointed Fourth Deputy Police Commissioner, a place created especially for him.

When Commissioner Bingham left office, Commissioner Woods also resigned. He went to Mexico for a year as the head of a lumber company. In the Mitchell mayoralty campaign Woods served as publicity manager for Mitchell. He was appointed secretary to the mayor January 1, 1914. On April 8, 1914, he was appointed police commissioner.

ernments at which he has exhausted his power in the premises he will in the usual way report all facts and circumstances to congress for consideration.

Whatever way the McLeMore resolution may be construed the question that in fact it put to the congress to vote on (under the construction by which it was brought) was whether or not there was to be an abridgement by congress of the recognized powers of the executive.

I believe that the people of this country do not want war and although I shall always be loyal to constituted authority in the United States it is my aim to do my part so far as I can in avoiding with honor, the plunging of this country needlessly in the European war.

The telegrams which you referred to in your letter were duly received. Assuring you that at all times your opinion will be received with greatest consideration and thanking you for your past courtesies, I am most sincerely yours,
CHARLES B. WARD.

"Bull" Popular Withal.
Following re-adoption of the resolutions which were passed by a rising vote of between 300 and 400 men at Sunday's meeting when it was decided to pass them first and discuss them afterward, there was a discussion of a new magazine just being issued styled "Bull."

This is the product of some of the allied, not allies, workers in the cause which the union represents and on motion of the Rev. Howard E. Snyder, it was voted to extend sympathy to "Bull" and its objects but that a subscription would not be possible at this time. The prospectus showed that 4,900 shares of stock were to be offered the public at $10 a share, the 51 per cent remaining to be controlled by the promoters.

Thanks Given to Press.
Eight new members were received, making a total of 75 members in the branch. Michael A. Reis was chosen as treasurer to succeed C. Wismer, who is leaving the city. In the place of Mr. Reis as vice president, the Rev. John P. Neumann, rector of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, was chosen. Mr. Reis, William Isemann and J. Stumpert were named as an auditing committee.

A total of $56.30 was reported as receipts for Sunday's meeting and expenses were about $78. The president declared that the work of raising the funds showed plainly "that the union was not being financed by the Kaiser or anybody else." The only note of war during the evening was caused by the popping of a single cork.

The press of the city was thanked for advance notices of meetings and for its report of the same, the report of The Freeman being especially commended for its fairness. The wicked newspaper men are all in New York in the opinion of one of the speakers.

The Resolutions.
The resolutions which were passed are as follows:

Whereas, in our United States we have, and of a right ought to have, a government of the people, by the people and for the people; and Whereas, it is not only the Constitutional right, but also the

PRIZE FOR BEST AUTO SHOW EXHIBIT

The management of the Kingston Automobile Show to be held at the armory March 30, 31 and April 1, has decided to give a prize of $30 to the exhibitor who makes the finest display. In the event of the committee not being able to agree, the prize is to be equally divided between six local charitable institutions: The Kingston City Hospital, Benedictine Sanitarium, Industrial Home, Home of the Holy Childhood, Kingston City Library, and the Bureau of Social Service.

In order that the public may be convinced that no one exhibitor will be favored before the prize is awarded, the following disinterested persons have been selected as the committee who will award the prize: Rev. John J. Hickey, representing the Home of the Holy Childhood; Major George Chandler, of the Kingston City Hospital staff; Dr. William J. O'Leary, of the Benedictine Sanitarium staff; Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wagoner, treasurer of the Industrial Home; Mrs. Laura B. MacMillan, secretary of the Bureau of Social Service, and Prof. M. J. Michael, president of the Kingston Library Association.

Undoubtedly there will be great strife on the part of the dealers to win the coveted prize but in the event of the failure of the committee to unanimously agree, the treasurer of the show will be obliged to award a check to each of the above named institutions for its share. The outcome of the award will be awaited with interest.

The speakers who will deliver addresses at the armory on the three nights of the show are: Judge William D. Cunningham, of the court of claims; Hon. Albert Callan of Valatie, author of the famous automobile law which bears his name, both of whom will speak on the last night of the show Governor Whitman, the principal speaker at the opening night of the exhibition, Secretary of State Francis M. Hughes and Mayor Canfield, who will officially open the show on Thursday night.

HURLEY AVENUE PLANS ACCEPTED BY B.P.W.

Concrete Road to be Laid on Hurley Avenue From Washington Avenue to Snyder Avenue—Work to be Started This Year.

The board of public works held a special session on Monday afternoon at the city hall to consider the plans for the proposed Hurley avenue improvement. The plans were received that day from the state highway department. The plans were examined by the board and City Engineer Codwise and County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran, and were accepted with a few minor changes.

The plans call for a concrete road from Washington avenue to Snyder avenue with a width of thirty-two feet. The state pays for sixteen feet of the roadway while the city pays for the remaining sixteen feet. The state expected to lay the road from Washington avenue to the city line, a width of sixteen feet, but the city thought it advisable to have it laid the full width of the street as far out as Snyder avenue, and to let the state highway department include the extra width of the roadway in its plans to be submitted to contractors for bids. From Snyder avenue to the city line the road will be sixteen feet wide, which will be paid for by the state.

From what can be learned it is expected to submit the plans for the work as soon as possible so that work can be done this year. No other business was brought to the attention of the board and an adjournment was taken.

Some registered Holstein cows are included among the live stock as well as four horses. A gasoline engine farm wagons and other equipment are included in the sale. John D. Van Kleeck is the auctioneer.

German Claim Victory.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, March 21.—German destroyers defeated British destroyers in a naval battle off the coast of Belgium yesterday, the admiralty announced today. After several direct hits by the German gunners, the enemy withdrew from the engagement, the official statement says.

British Victory in North Sea.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 21.—Three German torpedo destroyers were defeated in a running battle with four British vessels of the same type off the Belgian coast on Monday. Official announcement of the battle, the first sea clash in the North Sea for many months, was issued by the admiralty today.

The German destroyers fled to the German naval base established at Zeebrugge, but two of them were hit by shots from the pursuing British vessels. Four British sailors were wounded.

The admiralty's statement follows: "Yesterday morning four British destroyers sighted three German destroyers off the Belgian coast. The Germans immediately turned and ran for Zeebrugge, chased by us. Shots were exchanged during a running fight. Two of the enemy's boats were hit. Our casualties were four wounded."

AUTOMOBILES MAY ENTER CEMETERY
Many cemeteries throughout the country exclude auto hearses and automobiles from the cemetery grounds, requiring caskets to be taken from auto hearses at the cemetery entrance, and carried to the grave on a hand truck, the reason being that cemetery roads are without sidewalks, and that the heaving of automobile horns in cemeteries is unseemly. The trustees of Wiltwyck at their annual meeting at Judge Clearwater's office on Monday, however, adopted the following regulations:

First—That automobiles and automobile hearses be permitted to enter the cemetery upon the following conditions, and restrictions:

They shall enter on Pine Grove avenue, follow the main tour, and leave by it, and shall not enter upon other roads, streets or paths unless specially permitted by the superintendent.

Second—They shall not be permitted in the cemetery after sunset, or on Sunday, Decoration Day, the Fourth of July, and Labor Day, unless attending a funeral.

Third—The owners or drivers of auto hearses and taxi-cabs shall register at the superintendent's office, and obtain permits from him, and shall not drive faster than five miles an hour.

Fourth—Any person driving or in charge of an auto hearse or automobile, who in any way causes it to enter upon any lot, or to leave the regular roads of the cemetery, shall summarily thereafter be excluded from the cemetery by the superintendent, who is hereby authorized to exclude any and all such persons without further direction from the board.

Chaplain Jones to Lecture.
Members of Kingston Lodge No. 550, B. P. O. E., will have an opportunity to become posted on preparedness Thursday evening when a lecture will be given by the Rev. H. W. Jones, A. M. D. D., who was chaplain on the U. S. battleship Texas during the war with Spain. The lecture will begin at 8 o'clock following the regular session of the lodge. Organizations before whom the Rev. Dr. Jones has been heard, speak highly of his vivid description of the Texas under fire and the destruction of Cervera's fleet off Santiago, of which he was an eye witness.

Rev. Mr. Voight Not to Return.
Newburgh dispatches state that the hope of returning the Rev. W. Voight to Trinity Methodist Church in that city has practically been abandoned when word was received from one high in church councils to the effect that a newly ordained preacher could not be considered under any condition for the Trinity Church pulpit, which is one of the best in the conference. The Rev. Mr. Voight is not yet fully ordained but may be ordained such at the coming conference. Previous to going as a supply pastor to Trinity Church he was filling a supply appointment at Accord.

RING IS MISSING.

Recorder Called on to Arbitrate a Complicated Transaction.

Recorder Lang since he assumed office has settled many a matrimonial as well as other difficulties of residents of Kingston, but for the first time he has been called upon to arbitrate in a ring transaction which was brought to his attention Monday while a reporter was sitting in the court room waiting for the wheels of justice to revolve. From what the reporter could learn it is understood that the ring transaction is likely to be amicably settled before the shades of night fall upon the city.

It seems that in Rondout live two Hebrews, one of whom decided that he wanted some jewelry and he purchased two rings and after paying for them he found that an unexpected call had been made upon his pocketbook and that he needed $3. He was stumped for the minute and then he recalled that his friend might be "flush" and he called to see him.

The result of the call was the loaning to the purchaser of the rings the required coin while the purchaser deposited one of the rings as a security. That was some time ago. Since then the one who borrowed the three spot has paid back the loan by handing his friend a quarter and a half dollar at a time.

When the final payment on the loan had been made the ring purchaser asked his friend for the ring back. The friend informed him he had lost the ring but offered to give him another ring and $1 to boot. This did not suit the one who owned the ring and resulted in his calling in the recorder to arbitrate.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

The world is full of unfortunates that have but one ailment—Indecision.

STAFF OF LIFE.

Sandwiches are used particularly for cold repasts, especially for outdoor excursions and picnics. They are easily made and depend for perfection on their daintiness.

For chicken salad sandwiches chop the chicken and celery much finer than for the salad. Cut the bread in narrow oblongs, butter, lay on a lettuce leaf and a filling of the salad.

Fig Sandwiches.—Prepare a half-pound of figs by chopping them, and a third of a cupful of sugar, a half-cupful of boiling water, two table-spoonfuls of lemon juice, mix and cook these ingredients in a double boiler until thick enough to spread. Cut the bread in fancy shapes, spread with softened butter and place the fig filling between.

Lettuce Sandwiches.—Spread white bread, cut in oblongs, with butter, lay on a lettuce leaf dipped in salad dressing and sprinkle with Roquefort cheese.

Nut-Ginger Sandwiches.—Cut bread in narrow finger strips, butter and put between two a filling of chopped Canton ginger and cream well mixed, then add chopped walnuts that have been browned in a little butter and seasoned with a dash of salt and paprika, put on the third slice and press well together.

Kindergarten Sandwiches.—Cut brown bread with a doughnut cutter, also cut slices of white bread and use the same cutter. Spread out the small circles and the hollow ones, put a dark center into a white ring and a white center into a dark one, spread with butter and cottage cheese, put together in pairs or serve singly.

A most appetizing filling for any sandwich is a common boiled dressing which has been thinned with a little of the seasoned oil and vinegar from oil pickles, with a bit of the pickles chopped and added with a table-spoonful or two of finely chopped boiled ham.

A green pepper finely chopped added to boiled dressing is a flavor which is well liked for sandwiches. Olives stuffed or plain, pickles of various kinds and salt of celery or other seasonings also make a good filling.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAR. 21, 1916.

"There is a strong sentiment among Democratic leaders," runs the news from Washington, "that incomes, munitions, beer and whiskey ought to be made to bear the entire expense of increasing the army and navy." This is a most interesting state of mind. The idea, as elaborated elsewhere in the despatch, is to double the amount of the present income tax, but not to lower the $3,000 a year exemption. Doubtless it is true that the men with the bigger incomes ought to pay more for defense because they have more that needs defending, but that is no reason why the men with smaller incomes should contribute nothing.

How many professional and business men get more than $3,000 a year? There are plenty of them in the very large cities, but in such towns as Kingston the number is so small as to be negligible. Nobody at all in what are called the laboring classes receives so much. Yet all these men have a deep interest in preventing their country from falling into such a plight as Belgium's. Not only their means of livelihood, but their lives are at stake. Is there any reason in statesmanship as distinguished from politics why they should not "do their bit"? And then why put an extraordinary tax on alcoholic liquors? The consumer pays such taxes, and as approximately half our territory is dry and therefore destitute of consumers, the burden of all would have to be borne by only half of the people? The taxing of munitions has a suspicious resemblance to attempting to lift one's self by one's bootstraps. Of course, the Democratic leaders care nothing for these things. The uppermost thought with them is the result of the next election, and they are playing the kind of "smart politics" which is supposed to fool the voters.

It is amazing that the alleged statesmen now in control at Washington should spend so much time in devising schemes to get revenues from those who will squeal the least, without giving a thought to the possibility of getting better value from the expenditures to which we are already accustomed. It is evident from what has thus far been done in Congress that we cannot hope for the creation of an army larger than the one maintained by Switzerland, yet the total expenditures of the Government of that country are only about $20,000,000 a year, while the United States has been spending about $170,000,000 a year on its army alone. Conditions are not so different as to account for this enormous discrepancy. We are also spending about $140,000,000 a year on our navy, apparently without accomplishing much, while other nations with much less expense are leaving us far behind. If some strong man should arise in Congress and insist on thorough-going reform we should soon be able to take our rightful place among the nations without the necessity of increasing taxes at all. We have been looking for this big man, being prepared to hail him as the next President, but if he exists he is biding his time.

Tom Taggart's appointment to succeed the late Senator Shively in the United States Senate from Indiana should make thoughtful Democrats reflective. Taggart was formerly Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to which he was elected because of his wealth and the fact that he had been Democratic boss of Indiana for many years. Outside of that distinction, Taggart has been known principally for his connection with French Lick Springs, which has been described as the Monte Carlo of America, and also for his ownership of a mineral spring whose saline medicinal properties are most urgently needed by the Democratic party. The importance of the office of United States Senator, entirely aside from its honor, requires men of statesmanlike caliber, but the past few years have shown that its occupants are not always chosen for the qualities which should govern their selection. Indiana produces principally poets, humorists and story-writers, and perhaps Tom Taggart was the only prominent citizen the governor could find who was not engaged in amassing a fortune (as everyone does) through literary pursuits. But even so, Indiana ought to muster up enough modesty to keep Taggart in the background until the Presidential campaign shall have been decided.

An attitude of inexpressible horror is maintained by part of Christendom because Germany should have sought, if not compelled, an alliance with Turkey, while another part of Christendom having pronounced Teutonic sympathies is as greatly shocked that semi-barbaric African and Asiatic tribes should have been brought to the firing line by the Allies. In the light of atrocity and frightfulness, the present war has shown that the soldier whose emblem is the cross is even more capable of creating terror and havoc than his less civilized ally whose symbol is the crescent; higher civilization, opportunity and education have increased his power and intensified the savage nature within him. Since this is not a religious war, why should not the cross and crescent, side by side, lead their religious adherents into battle together? Politics makes strange bed-fellows without attracting particular attention, the ordinary business of the world is carried on without reference to religious belief. Why, then, should men and women waste time and writing material to deplore the fact that one branch of Mohammed's followers aligns itself with the Central Powers while another branch fights for the success of the Allies? The war has been responsible for a queer assortment of arguments.

"Yes, and I tried to enlist," declared Abington. "I was ruled out on account of my age."

No Chance for Lawyers.

A sad and seedy individual gained admission to the offices of one of the city's best known legal firms, and at last somehow penetrated to the senior partner.

"Well," asked the lawyer, "what do you want?"

"Half a dollar," he said boldly.

The man's unusual demeanor caught the lawyer's curiosity.

"There you are," he said, handing out the money. "And now I should like to have you tell me how you came to fall so low in the world."

The visitor laughed. "All my youth," he explained, "I had counted on inheriting something from my uncle, but when he died he left all he had to an orphan asylum."

"A philanthropist," commented the lawyer. "What did his estate consist of?"

"Ten children," said the visitor—and vanished.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Oscar Seagle and Maggie Teyte Sing "Songs of Home"

None but a Southerner with all his native love for the songs of the South-land could interpret the simple old ballad "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia" as Oscar Seagle does; nor could Maggie Teyte find better opportunity for expressing all the charms of her remarkable voice than in her rendition of Lohr's "Little Grey Home In The West."

These records are representative of the beauty and perfection of the Casals interprets the "Prelude" and "Sarabande" of Bach's "Suite in C Major" with a deep understanding of its beauty. Eleanor Painter sings selections from two of her recent successes, "Princess Pat" and "The Lilac Domino;" and exquisite contralto vocalism is found in the singing of the two selections by Margaret Keyes.

And ten more like these listed in the April Supplement! Enough in themselves for an evening's fun, if you add the brand-new "Casey" record (No. A1940, 10-inch, 75c.) with Casey's adventures as a judge on one side, and on the other "Mrs. Dugan's Discovery," the humorous prize of the month, written by Ellie Parker Butler, the famous author of "Pigs is Pigs."

Then there are six sparkling new dance records: six choral, ensemble and orchestral records appropriate for Easter; four brilliant, colorful masterpieces interpreted by Prince's orchestra; two perfect male quartette and quintette records; two new Taylor Trio recordings of unusual beauty; and novelties a-plenty for those who like them—marimba, xylophone, bell and ukulele records to round out a most complete record issue. has made most wonderful cures of cases where other physicians had failed. Any one suffering from any trouble, where the family doctor has failed to cure, should consult Dr. Swinburne and obtain his opinion and learn of other cases he has cured even when other doctors declared the trouble incurable. Even cases where other doctors declare an operation necessary, have been cured by Dr. Swinburne without the need of surgery. If you have not consulted Dr. Swinburne, you have not half tried to get well. No use to go to New York city to see specialists, for the treatment given by Dr. Swinburne is most effective and will cure any case that it is possible for any treatment to cure. It will cost nothing to consult this most successful physician and talk over your case, and if you decide to take his treatment the charges are very reasonable. The doctor has permanent offices at 340 Broadway, Kingston, where he will see patients on Fridays, from 10 a. m. to 12 m. and 2 to 4 p. m. Also Thursday evenings, 6 to 8.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, March 21.—The Ladies' Missionary Society held their annual meeting in the lecture room of the Reformed Church the past Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Mrs. James Cantine of Stone Ridge, who is a missionary in Arabia and is home on a vacation, was to have given an address, but was prevented from being present on account of the roads, which were rendered impassable by the heavy drifts. Mrs. Cantine also expected to give an address at Rosendale the previous evening and was unable to keep the engagement. It was a great disappointment to all, but the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Cantine is still to be looked forward to as she expects to address the society some time this May. As the president of the society said before opening the meeting, we are all very much disappointed at not having Mrs. Cantine with us today, but instead of having all of the pleasure now it will be divided. We will have some of it today and still more to look forward to in hearing Mrs. Cantine in May. The president, Mrs. Oscar Church, presided at the meeting. The service opened with the singing of that well known missionary hymn, "Hail to the Brightness of Zion's Glad Morning." Following this was the opening prayer, by the president, and the responsive scripture reading. The Misses Ruth Barnhart and Fay Reynolds then rendered a duet entitled "Call On," one of Billy Sunday's favorite hymns. Miss Elizabeth Krom gave a reading, after which all joined in singing, "Christ For the World We Sing." Readings were also given by Mrs. Thomas Snyder and Miss Cynthia Van Wageningen. The Rev. Mrs. Dangremont made a few fitting remarks and the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of "Our Country Voice is Pleading," followed by the Lord's prayer. After the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Dainty refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee, were served. The mite boxes which had been brought in were opened and counted after the meeting. The money amounted to $26.12. $25 was given to make Miss Mary C. Van Wageningen a life member of the society. During the missionary year the sum of $112 has been raised for the cause of missions.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Farrell gave a St. Patrick's dance at the Rock Cliff House on Friday evening. There were a large number present and all spent a most delightful evening. The music was excellent. The rooms were cleared for dancing and the floors were quickly filled. At twelve o'clock refreshments were served, but the party did not break up until the wee small hours of the morning.

Among those present from Stone Ridge were John Hess, Miss Elizabeth Hess and Harry Palen, and Alphonso Craft, Edward DeWitt of Allgerville, and Arthur and Cyrus Deup of Kyserike were also at the dance.

Miss Belle Parker was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Krom the past week end.

Mrs. M. S. Davis and her daughter, Mrs. John B. Snyder are visiting Mrs. Charles Stepath of New York City.

Three young lady friends of Kingston were the guests of Miss Marguerite Quick the past week end.

Miss Esther Hasbrouck, who has been employed at Middletown, has returned home and is now employed as waitress at the Rock Cliff House.

Vera Jeanette, the daughter of Mrs. Daniel Murphy has been very ill with the pneumonia.

On account of the absence of Mrs. John B. Snyder, the president of the Pine Mountain League, there was no meeting the past Saturday. Notice will be given regarding the next meeting.

John Carman of Kingston attended the dance at the Rock Cliff House on Friday evening.

The little daughter of Daniel Gheer has been ill.

Miss Mary C. Van Wageningen called at the home of Mrs. Egbert Stalls on Thursday afternoon.

On account of the severe storm the past week which rendered the roads impassable there was no prayer service the past Wednesday evening in the Reformed Church. There will be service this evening. The topic which was to have been taken up the past Wednesday will be taken up at this meeting. Topic, "Causes of Failure in Life." Prov. 10: 1-32.

The new church officers will be installed on the first Sunday in April.

Miss Belle Van Wageningen and Mrs. George Holmes called at the home of Mrs. Luke Krom one afternoon the past week.

Our new pastor, Rev. Mr. Dangremont will be installed on Tuesday afternoon, April 4th at 2 o'clock.

The text of the Sunday morning sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Dangremont was Acts 11-26. "And They Were Called Christians First at Antioch."

Miss Rose McCabe of Kingston attended the dance at the Rock Cliff House the past Friday evening.

Richard Purvis of Kingston spent Sunday in this place.

The weather for the past few days has been much warmer.

Mrs. Dangremont spent the past week end with her daughters in Kingston.

Haywood Van Wageningen is home on a vacation.

Mrs. Pedan and daughter Agnes and Mrs. Wolven visited Kingston on Monday of this week.

FACTS ABOUT FISH.

What the Ulster County Protective Association Has Accomplished.

Some facts about fish life from the time the little squirming atom of animal life leaves the egg to the time when it is safely anchored on the fisherman's hook or fly may be of interest to lovers of the angling sport.

The temperature of the water should be between 44 and 48 degrees to bring about a successful hatching of the eggs. The tiny fish break through the shell first but occasionally they voyage into the world with their heads issuing from the shell before the interior end and when this happens the fish struggle to death on account of the sharp edge of the shell. The reason that accounts for the breaking of the tail through the shell before the head is that the waving of the tail breaks the shell, thus giving free passage for the rest of the body.

After each fish hatches, nature has provided each with a sack of nourishment upon which it lives by absorption for about 30 days, during which time it remains under the surface of the water. After this period of infant growth is completed the fish rises to the surface of the water, always facing up-stream to catch the food floating with the current.

Because big fish devour the eggs and small fish, only 3 per cent of the eggs hatched mature into fish that are big enough to catch.

For instance, if a trout lays 5,000 eggs only 150 would attain a size to be enticed by a worm or fly.

Instead of giving fishermen a chance at the 150, the anglers' chances are made bigger by allowing them to draw the 5,000, due to the efforts of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association, which plant the fish in the streams instead of the eggs, as nature provides. The local association notices in the streams and they are filled accordingly. If it were not for this work by local anglers interested, the streams would soon be depopulated. Sportsmen should think this over and send $2 for membership fee for one year to keep the streams at 100 per cent efficiency instead of the sad percentage of 3 per cent.

SETS MANY RECORDS

Kohlemainen, Finnish Runner, Lays Brick in Day Time.

Nothing Like Running Up and Down Ladders to Keep Man in Good Physical Condition—He Can Run Any Distance.

Laying bricks by day and setting up new track records at night and on holidays is the daily occupation of Hannes Kohlemainen, the great Finnish distance runner, now attached to the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York, says a Philadelphia dispatch to Indianapolis News.

"There is nothing like running up and down ladders and stairs carrying bricks to keep a man in good physical condition," said Kohlemainen when one of his friends came across him in New York the other day following the trade he learned when he was a boy in Finland. "This outdoor work is what I like."

Kohlemainen continues to be the marvel of the athletic world as a distance runner, and he shows not the slightest sign of going back now that he has become acclimated. He can run any distance from two miles to the Marathon distance and at record-breaking speed. The number of records he now holds is legion, but he intends to keep plugging away after new indoor and outdoor marks. What he would like best of all would be to break the American record of 9:17 4-5 for the two-mile run, now held by Tell Berna, the old Cornell distance star. Kohlemainen and his trainer, Lawson Robertson, think his record is at the Finn's mercy whenever he goes after it properly.

It was not until the Olympic games of 1912 that Kohlemainen attracted attention on this side of the water. At the Stockholm games he performed the almost unprecedented feat of running eight distance races in less than two weeks without losing one. These included heats in the 3,000 meters, 5,000 meters, team race and the cross country championship. Kohlemainen proved himself not only a man of iron to even run so many races, but also the world's premier distance star by winning them all and beating in each the world's best.

Kohlemainen was an object of great interest to the Americans and the little Finn was impressed so deeply with the splendidly trained Americans that he was not long in coming to this country. When he arrived he could speak hardly a word of English, but he has quickly mastered the American tongue and now he has decided to make this country his permanent home.

Java's Finest Temple to Buddha.

In his posthumous work, "Java," D. W. Campbell goes minutely into the antiquities of Java, which consist of a number of ruins of temples and of other sacred edifices, formerly dedicated to the religion of the people, who, after first embracing Brahmanism, changed their faith (about A. D. 450) to Buddhism and a thousand years later to Mohammedanism. The greatest of the temples is Boro-Boedoe (or Boro-Budur, as Mr. Campbell spells it). It is the finest example of its kind extant; in fact, Buddhism has left no such record anywhere else. Nobody knows exactly when the temple was built, but it is generally believed to be 1,200 years old, though some authorities date it as late as the thirteenth century. There are 436 images of Buddha in the temple. For centuries it lay buried and was unearthed by an Indian officer, Colonel Colin Mackenzie. Two hundred coolies a day were working for six weeks in clearing the riotous luxuriance of tropical bushes and creepers, but it was years before the temple was entirely uncovered.

One Gladstone Interview.

An amusing glimpse of the famous statesman Gladstone was once given by John Murray of the publishing house which issued many of Mr. Gladstone's writings and speeches. "The last time I was at Mr. Gladstone's house," said Mr. Murray, "I had breakfast early and alone, as I was going to Scotland. When I had finished I was told that Mr. Gladstone did not know that I was leaving so early and that he wanted to have another talk with me. I went to his bedroom—a very large room with a double bed in it. Mrs. Gladstone was in her dressing room.

Gladstone was dressed in a nightgown with a brown shawl round him. He was lying flat on his face, his head at the foot of the bed and his feet on the pillows. In one hand he held a cup of coffee, and there was a book in the other. I shall never forget that interview and the comicality of the great lion head popping up as I went toward him."

Her Pride Hurt.

"Your fashionable friend seems to be threatened with palpitation of the heart."

"Yes; she just received a dreadful shock."

"And what happened to fortune's favorite?"

"She was sitting in an employment office waiting for a chance to look at a cook when a haughty dame swept up and offered her a job."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Extremist.

"What in the world does old Kloseman want with more money? He hasn't any near relatives, and he doesn't begin to spend his income now."

"That's just the point. He wants to economize on a larger scale."—Boston Transcript.

He Had Painted Too.

"My dear fellow," said the artist, "you can't imagine how much work there was in painting that picture."

"Oh, yes, I can," said the young country lad; "my father made me paint the barn one summer."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Futile Task.

Unless you are close enough to him to be appointed postmaster, following a leader is the most futile task.—Athenian Globe.

Happy Accident.

"I bet your father had trouble reading your left-handed letter." "Fortunately for me, he had. I told him that after the accident my temperature went to 104, and he sent me a check for the amount."—Life.

Art a Trustworthy History.

Great nations write their autobiographies in three manuscripts—the book of their deeds, the book of their words and the book of their art. Not one of these books can be understood unless we read the two others, but of the three the only quite trustworthy one is the last. The acts of a nation may be triumphant by its good fortune, and its words might be the genius of a few of its children, but its art only by the general gifts and common sympathies of the race.—John Ruskin.

Camel Carriages.

Camel carriages are not common conveyances in most parts of India, but on the great trunk road leading to Delhi they are frequently to be seen. They are large, double story wagons, drawn sometimes by one, sometimes by two or even three camels, according to their size. Iron bars which give them a cage-like appearance were originally intended as a defense against robbers, and the carts were probably also used for the conveyance of prisoners.

Ancient Basket Makers.
The Worshipful Company of Basket Makers dates back to 1569, but basket making was a recognized craft in London more than a century before then. In 1463 basket makers "and other foreigners" were banished by the common council to the old manor of Blanche Appletton, and in 1538 even those English basket makers who were still permitted to live in the city were summarily dealt with, on account of their indifference to the danger from fire.—London Chronicle.

A Unique Specimen.
"I once knew an eccentric man," stated old Festus Pester, "who when he had got the desired number on the telephone did not demand fiercely, 'Whiz ziss?' Instead he invariably said civilly, 'This is John J. Poppendick, wishing to speak to Mr. Buckover.' His funeral was the largest ever held in his neighborhood where he had resided, and thereat strong men broke down and wept like children, being convinced that they would never again see his like."—Judge.

Shakespearean.
Father, in the hall, had been standing for half an hour while Millicent and Harold bade each other good night in the doorway.
"Parting," quoths Harold, "is such sweet sorrow that I could say good night till!"
At this speech father gets a Shakespearean inspiration of his own and tramps down the stairs.
"Seems to me," he asserts, "that there is too much adieu about nothing here."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The extensive range of styles in sport suits is a marked feature of the spring display of fashions. Wool jersey is largely used in these suits. The colors and novelty plaids and checks are the smartest that have been seen in some time. This particularly snappy sport suit is developed in brown and black wool check. The coat is belted, somewhat similarly to Norfolk style. Brown glazed kid trims the collar, cuffs and pocket tabs, also covers the buttons.

Wouldn't Be New to Her.

Miss Gigglegum (single and romantic)—"The shower of soot and ashes from Vesuvius must be an awe-inspiring sight. Would you not like to witness it?" Mrs. Pottson Pans (married and prosaic)—"Oh, I don't know—I've seen my husband take down a stovepipe."—Judge.

An English moving picture man has invented an instrument for registering the hilarity caused by comic films. TOBACCO FRAUDS
REACH MILLIONS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 21.—Nation wide tobacco frauds by which the government has been swindled out of untold millions of dollars in revenues, have been uncovered by agents of the treasury department it was announced today. Officials declared that the system by which these gigantic frauds were perpetrated, when fully exposed, will be the most pretentious in the history of the country.

New York, March 21.—Federal officials estimated today that the government had lost more than $500,000 in New York alone through the operation of a ring of manufacturers of cigars and cigarettes who have sold their products without paying the internal revenue tax. It is believed that the ring had its headquarters here, but its operations extended to many sections of the country.

The round up of dealers accused of taking part in the work of fraud began late yesterday and was still in progress today.

Thirty-six prisoners were held in jail totalling $45,500. The officers making the arrests had more than 50 warrants left to serve.

HOME RULE ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Vermont Election Shows That the State is Strong for Local Option as Against Statewide Prohibition.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Burlington, March 21.—Vermont recently rejected state prohibition by 13,000 votes. Before the election, Vermont was dryer than Kansas. There were in the entire state only twenty license towns and sixty saloons, less than in the business section of Boston.

It had always been the experience in other states that when a sufficient number of country districts had been made "dry" by local option, then the road to state-wide prohibition was comparatively easy.

Vermont is the first state in recent years to go against this established precedent. In rural district, in township and in village, the Vermonters marched to the polls and voted against statewide prohibition whether their town was already "dry" or not. There was a sort of tacit understanding that one community had no right to tell another community what was good for that other community. "The Vermont spirit," is the way the papers described it.

Grand Isle, the first town to report, defeated state prohibition 73 to 32, but voted for local prohibition, 87 to 78. Shelburne voted 167 to 58 against state prohibition, while the vote for license was 141 to 72. In South Burlington on state prohibition the vote was, yes 43, no 83, while the vote on local license was, yes 28, no 81.

Underhill on state prohibition voted, yes 47, no 99, and on local license, yes 56, no 88. Williston on state prohibition voted, yes 63, no 76, and on local license, yes 34, no 90. Milton's vote on state prohibition was, yes 106, no 162, and on local license, yes 112, no 228. Richmond's vote on state prohibition was, yes 182, no 178, and on local license, yes 112, no 228. Ferrisburg's vote on state prohibition was, yes 82, no 105, and on local license, yes 31, no 144. Jericho, the only other of these sixteen towns in addition to Richmond to give a majority for the measure, voted, yes 105, no 61, and on local license, yes 28, no 138. Richmond's vote on state prohibition was, yes 82, no 169, and on local license, yes 104, no 125.

The president of the Vermont Local Option League was James M. Tyler, former justice of the supreme court. Justice Tyler, now passed eighty years of age, is a total abstainer. On the other hand he does not believe that it is a crime for another to have wine on the table, but he is not an advocate of even moderate drinking. He believes that each man must decide for himself whether he shall drink and to what extent. And what applies to the individual must also apply to the community. In other words each unit of population shall decide how liquor shall be brought into that community.

This Vermont election has already been heralded the breadth of the country as a victory for the liquor interests. This, in spite of the views held by the anti-prohibition leaders, and in spite of the fact that nine-tenths of Vermont remains dryer than Maine or Kansas. And it is a victory for the liquor interests, this because liquor interests have been wise enough to adopt the "Vermont idea" as their own and the Anti-Saloon League played into their hands by attempting to force state-wide prohibition on Vermont, which was already satisfied with local option for the purpose of an anti-prohibition movement for nation-wide prohibition. The election was a surprise to both sides.

WHITMAN CONFERS
WITH LEGISLATORS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 21.—Governor Whitman today held two important conferences with legislative leaders. On the outcome of one depends whether there is to be a direct tax imposed next year. It is understood that if the state police bill and the proposed changes in the national guard go through and half of the automobile money is returned to the counties, that a direct tax will be necessary.

The feeling was that the appropriation bills would be judiciously pruned and then passed.

The governor also conferred with George Foster Peabody, Senator Brown, Assemblyman Maier, Conservation Commissioner Pratt, Speaker Sweet and others on the plan of placing the Saratoga reservation under the conservation commission, to the end that the reservation would be a source of income rather than expense. The matter was thoroughly gone over but nothing was decided upon.

MT. TREMPER.

Mt. Tremper, March 21.—Admission tickets are for sale at Meister's drug store for a cantata entitled "The Pilgrim Fathers," to be given under the auspices of Phoenicia Choral Society Friday evening, March 24, at 1. O. O. F. Hall, Phoenicia. A historical address will be delivered by John W. Eckert before the cantata. Refreshments will be served by the ladies.

The Rev. G. W. Gulick has postponed his meetings until the first of April on account of the stormy weather. It was impossible for many to attend as the roads were drifted so badly.

Miss Frieda Randall spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Gertrude Sylvet.

The young people are contemplating getting up another play in the near future.

L. S. Randall was a Kingston visitor on Monday.

Mrs. Minnie Gerald and her uncle, James DeVall, called on Mrs. W. A. Sylvet on Saturday afternoon.

A number are still suffering with severe colds and we are still getting a little more snow every day or so. It certainly hasn't the appearance of spring.

Cutting Canal Through Ice.

Something unusual for the first day of spring was the work of cutting a canal through the ice in the Rondout creek of sufficient width to admit the passage of an ice barge. The canal is being cut from the Cornell dock to the Hiltbrandt Dry Dock Company's plant at South Rondout. The barge has just been completed at the yard and will be loaded with ice that at present is stored in box cars on the Ulster & Delaware railroad tracks. When the river opens the barge with the other loaded barges moored in the creek will be towed to New York city.

Mrs. Asquith Vindicated.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 21.—Mrs. H. H. Asquith, wife of the premier, defeated the Globe today in her libel action for damages which was based on letters published in that paper accusing her of playing tennis with German officers interned at Downing Hall and also of sending them gifts. Mrs. Asquith denied that she had ever been to Downing Hall, and said there was no foundation for the allegations.

Flood Damage Feared.

Syracuse, March 21.—Alarm is increasing both in this city and the outlying sections following the first thaw of the season, which started yesterday and is continuing today. With snow piled four and five feet deep on the watersheds of this section the worst flood in local history is looked for, should rain fall in considerable quantity.

Kaiser's Villa a Hospital.

Adversity has the effect of eliciting talents which in prosperous circumstances would have lain dormant.—Horace.	Horse Was There. The drawing teacher recently used a small toy horse as a model for the first-grade drawing lesson. She was walking down the aisle and watching the progress of the pupils when she came to Bob, who had drawn a different object. "Why, Bob," she asked, "what have you drawn?" "A barn," said Bob. "But why didn't you draw the horse?" "Can't you see," said Bob disgustedly, "the horse is in the barn!"	Worth Knowing. To remove rust from steel rub the rusted part well with sweet oil and allow it to stand for 48 hours. Then rub with a piece of soft leather and sprinkle with finely powdered unslaked lime until the rust disappears.	Foxes Good Rat Catchers. Foxes have been trained to catch rats by a man residing in Ambegate, Derbyshire, England. He claims that they are better than dogs for the work.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAR. 21, 1916.

"There is a strong sentiment among Democratic leaders," runs the news from Washington, "that incomes, munitions, beer and whiskey ought to be made to bear the entire expense of increasing the army and navy." This is a most interesting state of mind. The idea, as elaborated elsewhere in the despatch, is to double the amount of the present income tax, but not to lower the $3,000 a year exemption. Doubtless it is true that the men with the bigger incomes ought to pay more for defense because they have more that needs defending, but that is no reason why the men with smaller incomes should contribute nothing. How many professional and business men get more than $3,000 a year? There are plenty of them in the very large cities, but in such towns as Kingston the number is so small as to be negligible. Nobody at all in what are called the laboring classes receives so much. Yet all these men have a deep interest in preventing their country from falling into such a plight as Belgium's. Not only their means of livelihood, but their lives are at stake. Is there any reason in statesmanship as distinguished from politics why they should not "do their bit"? And then why put an extraordinary tax on alcoholic liquors? The consumer pays such taxes, and as approximately half our territory is dry and therefore destitute of consumers, the burden of all would have to be borne by only half of the people? The taxing of munitions has a suspicious resemblance to attempting to lift one's self by one's bootstraps. Of course, the Democratic leaders care nothing for these things. The uppermost thought with them is the result of the next election, and they are playing the kind of "smart politics" which is supposed to fool the voters.

It is amazing that the alleged statesmen now in control at Washington should spend so much time in devising schemes to get revenue, from those who will squeal the least, without giving a thought to the possibility of getting better value from the expenditures to which we are already accustomed. It is evident from what has thus far been done in Congress that we cannot hope for the creation of an army larger than the one maintained by Switzerland, yet the total expenditures of the Government of that country are only about $20,000,000 a year, while the United States has been spending about $170,000,000 a year on its army alone. Conditions are not so different as to account for this enormous discrepancy. We are also spending about $110,000,000 a year on our navy, apparently without accomplishing much, while other nations with much less expense are leaving us far behind. If some strong man should arise in Congress and insist on thorough-going reform we should soon be able to take our rightful place among the nations without the necessity of increasing taxes at all. We have been looking for this big man, being prepared to hail him as the next President, but if he exists he is hiding his time.

Tom Taggart's appointment to succeed the late Senator Shively in the United States Senate from Indiana should make thoughtful Democrats reflective. Taggart was formerly Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, to which he was elected because of his wealth and the fact that he had been Democratic boss of Indiana for many years. Outside of that distinction, Taggart has been known principally for his connection with French Lick Springs, which has been described as the Monte Carlo of America, and also for his ownership of a mineral spring whose saline medicinal properties are most urgently needed by the Democratic party. The importance of the office of United States Senator, entirely aside from its honor, requires men of statesmanlike calibre, but the past few years have shown that its occupants are not always chosen for the qualities which should govern their selection. Indiana produces principally poets, humorists and story-writers, and perhaps Tom Taggart was the only prominent citizen the governor could find who was not engaged in amassing a fortune (as everyone does) through literary pursuits. But even so, Indiana ought to muster up enough modesty to keep Taggart in the background until the Presidential campaign shall have been decided.

An attitude of inexpressible horror is maintained by part of Christendom because Germany should have sought, if not compelled, an alliance with Turkey, while another part of Christendom having pronounced Teutonic sympathies is as greatly shocked that semi-barbaric African and Asiatic tribes should have been brought to the firing line by the Allies. In the light of atrocity and frightfulness, the present war has shown that the soldier whose emblem is the cross is even more capable of creating terror and havoc than his less civilized ally whose symbol is the crescent; higher civilization, opportunity and education have increased his power and intensified the savage nature within him. Since this is not a religious war, why should not the cross and crescent, side by side, lead their religious adherents into battle together? Politics makes strange bed-fellows without attracting particular attention, the ordinary business of the world is carried on without reference to religious belief. Why, then, should men and women waste time and writing material to deplore the fact that one branch of Mohammed's followers aligns itself with the Central Powers while another branch fights for the success of the Allies? The war has been responsible for a queer assortment of arguments.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

Fur—"So the paper sent back your poem?" Demutts—"Yes, I had 'return in 5 days' in the corner of the envelope."—Puck.

"Going to have a garden this spring?" "Don't know. I'm going to plant a lot of seeds, but next July will tell whether or not it's a garden."—Detroit Free Press.

Housekeeper (to red nosed tramp)—"I suppose you owe your present rags and misery to not being able to say no." Tramp—"Yes'm—during a leap year."—Boston Transcript.

"Now, about this life insurance I contemplate taking out. Premiums vary." "Premiums?" chirped his wife. "I want a plush-covered postcard album, John."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"How is your boy Josh getting along with his employer?" "Well," replied Farmer Cornstossel, "they have come to an agreement at last. Josh said he was going to quit, and the boss boss said so, too."—Washington Star.

Editor—"I am told that in your account of that fashionable wedding you actually mentioned the groom's name. Don't you know that is contrary to custom?" Reporter—"Yes; I'm sorry, sir, but you see it happened to creep in among the out of town guests."—Life.

Collier Offered Remedy.

William Collier, W. L. Abington and an English actor were discussing the war problem in the grill room of the Lambs Club.

"I think it is your duty to go home and fight," declared Abington.

"It is not for you to say that," retorted the English actor. "I am a British subject yourself."

"Yes, and I tried to enlist," declared Abington. "I was ruled out on account of my age."

"I tried to enlist in the army, too," said the English actor, "but I was ruled out on account of my health. The surgeon discovered that I had a floating kidney."

"You ought to have entered the navy," remarked Collier.—The New York Telegraph.

Would Have Been Awkward.

An amusing story was told by Mrs. E. Kennie of Harrogate in opening a bazaar at Ecclehill. A visitor to a hospital for soldiers was surprised to hear one of the patients being addressed by the nurses by his Christian name. It being customary to address patients by their surname only. Upon inquiry as to why this distinction was accorded to the particular soldier referred to, the reply received was:

"Well, we can't very well call him by his surname."

"But why not?" queried the somewhat astonished visitor.

"You see," was the overwhelming answer, "his surname is Love, and it's rather awkward."—London Tit-Bits.

No Chance for Lawyers.

A sad and ready individual gained admission to the offices of one of the city's best known legal firms, and at last somehow penetrated to the senior partner.

"Well," asked the lawyer, "what do you want?"

The visitor was nothing if not frank.

"Half a dollar," he said boldly.

The man's unusual demeanor caught the lawyer's curiosity.

"There you are," he said, handing out the money. "And now I should like to have you tell me how you came to fall so low in the world."

The visitor laughed. "All my youth," he explained, "I had counted on inheriting something from my uncle, but when he died he left all he had to an orphan asylum."

"A philanthropist," commented the lawyer. "What did his estate consist of?"

"Ten children," said the visitor, and vanished.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Thursday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock there will be a demonstration of corn judging given to the agricultural classes of the high school. Recently the students in these classes have made several tests to determine the relative germinating qualities of butt and tip kernels as compared with body kernels of an ear of corn. Among these were tests known as the flat test and the "rag baby" test.

Lecture by Mr. Hook.

Thursday evening of this week W. R. Hook, manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, will deliver a lecture in the high school auditorium on grubs and insects and their relation to our gardens. This is primarily for the benefit of the agricultural and biology classes of the school, but the general public is cordially invited to enjoy this lecture along with the students. This lecture has been given by Mr. Hook at other places with great success as it has proven both entertaining and instructive. Part of this lecture was given to the agricultural classes about six weeks ago, and the department so appreciated its value that it has requested Mr. Hook to repeat it this Thursday.

Incubator in Operation.

An incubator has kindly been loaned the students of the industrial department of the school by the Canfield Supply Company and is now in operation. It is affording a great deal of interest and moreover instruction, and the wood-working department has set about to make its own brooder in which to house the school chicks when they put in their appearance.

Student Chautauqua Tickets.

As has been customary there will be tickets available for the use of high school or eighth grade students for the Chautauqua entertainments at one dollar a ticket. This instructive course starts May fourth and continues until the 10th, and tickets may be obtained at the office of the superintendent of schools any time before the fourth of May. These tickets will not be transferable and must bear the signature of the bearer, as well as that of the superintendent of schools.

The Minstrels.

This Friday evening the Debating Club will give its long planned minstrel show. The program is made up of one succession of hearty laughs, jokes and personals. Nobody in the school will think of missing this great opportunity of hearing everybody in the school get knocked. The tickets now on sale are 15 cents and the performance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Basketball.

Tuesday afternoon there will be a novel game of girls' basketball played in the high school gymnasium. The blonds are going to play the brunettes. The light and dark young ladies are fairly well divided in this particular activity, and the contest will probably be one of no little interest.

Thursday afternoon the Midget team intends to play a five from Saugerties. An admission of 10 cents will be charged which goes to pay for their uniforms, all of which have had to be bought this season.

Coffee Facts

Read what the 19th edition United States Dispensary (page 253), the guiding authority for chemists, druggists, and physicians, says about the drug, caffeine, of which there is about 2½ grains in the average cup of coffee:

"Given in large doses to the lower animals, caffeine produces hurried respiration, restlessness, slightly lowered, followed by a markedly elevated temperature, tetanic and clonic convulsions, progressive paralysis, and finally death from paralytic arrest of respiration."

Although man is stronger and more resistant, it is a well-known scientific fact that caffeine, in coffee, is a frequent cause of headache, nervousness, biliousness, heart flutter and many other ills.

Not at one large dose, but by little doses repeated regularly does this subtle, habit-forming drug get in its work, and, sooner or later, many coffee drinkers suffer.

Before that time comes, suppose you make a personal test—quit coffee ten days and use

POSTUM

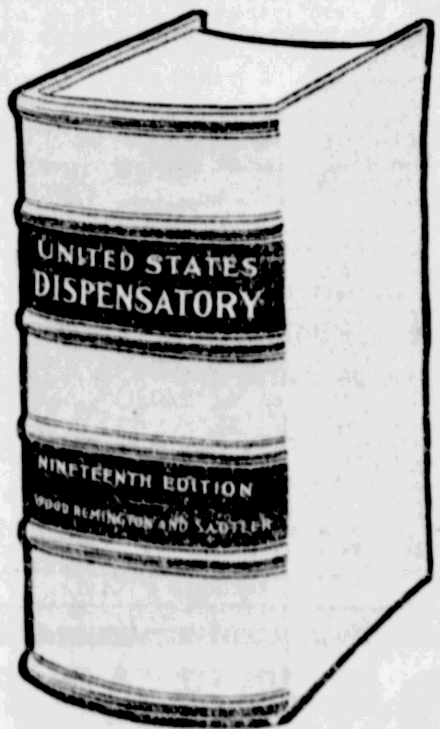

Made of wheat and a little wholesome molasses, this famous pure food-drink has a rich, snappy flavour much like that of mild, high-grade coffee, and it contains no drug or other harmful element.

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum is the original Postum reduced to soluble form; a level teaspoonful in a cup with boiling water makes a perfect cup instantly. Both forms are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same.

The change from coffee to Postum is pleasant as well as highly beneficial, and with the better health that comes with freedom from caffeine, the drug in coffee, you'll know

"There's a Reason"

THEY SAY.

Today is the official opening of Spring and the hotel clerk who went out early yesterday morning to watch the direction in which the crows were flying is authority for the statement that March is going out like a lamb, and with mint sauce, maybe, if the chef is agreeable.

Well, it's about time winter was over anyway is the belief of one Broadway merchant whose help threatened to strike on Saturday night when a gentle snowfall threatened. The time spent in clearing streets and walks of snow the past winter is believed to have been record-breaking. A new disease developed in retail centers during the continuous snowfalls known as "snow-shovel-shoulder." Shovel-wielders pleaded lame backs by way of excuse for slow progress.

The buds on the trees are quite some distance behind the size noted in former years at this time, according to observers, who assert that the continuous cold weather has kept the buds back. But now that spring is officially here the passing of the snow will be only a question of time. Persons apprehensive of floods are taking some comfort in easy stages of the melting process under the restraining influence of these chill nights.

Honeymooning with war brides has been a popular indoor sport the past winter in many localities but no especially brilliant coups have been recorded in Kingston according to the man in the lunch-wagon. Another resident tells a tale of a chance visit to the boom town of Hopewell, Virginia, by an Ulster county man who was prevailed upon to invest a matter of $5,000 in real estate. He held the mortgage but one month when a telegram apprised him of the fact that a purchaser awaited his acceptance of an offer of double the original price. Needless to say, he sold but his experience is said to be only one in many noted in that war boom township.

Curious Apache Belief.

The Apache Indians' religious belief prevents them from committing murder in the dark. If a dozen Apaches should discover a man sleeping by his campfire at night no amount of money would hire them to attack him until the sun came up. They believe that if they kill a man at night their own souls will walk in eternal darkness forever. Knowing this curious superstition, hunters, scouts, trappers and others travel through the Apache nation in the old days moved about during the night and lay by in some safe retreat during the day.

Feed For Thought.

"I listened to your speech with the greatest care," said the constituent to the congressman.

"Well, I think there was food for thought in it," said the congressman.

"You bet there was! It just made me think what a fool I had been to vote for you."—Chicago News.

FUNSTON REPORT IS REASSURING

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 21.—Although a very lengthy report was received from General Funston today reviewing the general situation along the border its contents were withheld by the war department. It was stated that the dispatch gave no new details of the reported fighting between Villa and the Carranzista forces of General Canaq. Its general tenor, officials said, was of a reassuring nature.

The question of a general agreement with the de facto government which would set forth in exact terms under what circumstances the forces of the United States and Mexico shall operate against bandits in each other's territory was scheduled to be the chief topic of discussion at today's cabinet meeting. Acting Secretary Polk has recommended that some such arrangement be entered into inasmuch as it will prove of material assistance to Carranza in quieting the agitation against permitting the American expedition to remain on Mexican territory.

If the present plans are carried out the agreement will follow closely the lines of Secretary Lansing's telegram as sent to General Carranza specifically setting forth that where bandits take place the troops of that nation whose territory is violated shall be permitted to pursue those responsible until they are exterminated.

Execution of such agreement, however, depends entirely on the position taken by the Carranzista forces now massed along the American border. So far these troops have made no trouble for the Americans but their attitude is generally described as "sullenly passive" and it is admitted that it would not take very much to stir up real trouble. That is the one thing that the state and war departments have been working to prevent. If present conditions can be maintained until after Villa actually is captured or killed, the Americans will be withdrawn in a hurry. But officials are fearful that this yet will prove impossible.

Although hoping for the best, officials have taken every contingency into account. At every point where there is a strong force of Mexican soldiers massed a corresponding force of Americans have been gathered and it is confidently asserted that any surprise attack at any point has been made impossible.

Carranza is being given his opportunity but the fact that he may fail is not being overlooked. Should he fail, then officials say that the United States must restore order by force and then establish a limited protectorate until a constitutional government can be installed, something that will closely follow the action taken in Cuba.

There is hardly a single official who questions the good faith of Carranza, but they place no trust in his ability to hold his troops. It is predicted by officials who know the general situation that if Villa is able to remain at large for a month he will be proclaimed as a national hero. Desertions of Carranzista troops to his banner must follow.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, March 21.—The Epworth League of the Ellenville M. E. Church gave a St. Patrick's supper on Friday evening, March 17, which was well attended, as over two hundred people sat down to what was considered one of the best suppers yet given by any church society of this place. After enjoying the excellent menu, a short but interesting program was given. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. John H. Divine and Mrs. E. B. Kimble. Speeches were made, applicable to the occasion, by H. Westcott, Rev. W. H. Moser and Superintendent W. Floyd Harris, of the public schools. It is but fair to say that these gentlemen were at their best. We venture to say that the occasion was enjoyed by all present and the proceeds of the supper satisfactory, amounting to seventy dollars.

The concert, play and dance given by the Clayton Military Band on Friday evening, March 17, at Northbury Hall, was a success in every way. The play, "A Thousand for a Husband," was especially good and the concert given by the band previous to the play was without exception the best they have yet given, as each number was beautifully rendered.

The Woman's Club of Ellenville met on Monday afternoon, March 20, with Mrs. Ben M. Taylor, at her pleasant home on Center street. After the business of the meeting had been concluded, several excellent papers were read, among which were "Poets and Other Writers," by Mrs. George J. Hornbeck, and "Current Events," by Mrs. J. W. Rapp. The reading and discussion of these papers occupied some time, after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. One new member was elected to a membership in the club, Mrs. Rollin W. Thompson.

The basketball team of the Ellenville high school held a banquet and dance at the Wayside Inn on Saturday evening, March 18.

Miss Bernice Gaskell entertained a skilling party at her home on Saturday evening. We understand that the young people proceeded to Miss Gaskell's residence on skis, and after enjoying refreshments spent the evening very pleasantly with games and dancing.

Alfred Gaskell, who has been spending a few days in New York on business, returned home on Sunday evening.

Jansen Hornbeck and friend, Mr. Newbury of New York, spent the week-end with Mr. Hornbeck's parents in this village. On Sunday, they paid a visit to Yama Farms Inn, where they were made welcome by the genial proprietor, Frank B. Seaman.

Dr. H. C. Derby, who has been suffering with an affliction of the eyes, goes to New York this week to consult a specialist in regard to them. Dr. Derby is under the care of Dr. B. F. Neal of this village.

Mrs. W. H. White was pleasantly surprised on Monday afternoon by a large party of her friends.

The Order of Eastern Star gave a covered dish social at the Masonic rooms, on Canal street. After the ceremony of initiating a new member had been performed, upon a candidate, the dishes were uncovered and a veritable feast enjoyed.

The funeral of Mrs. Bernard Fiesler was held at St. Andrew's R. C. Church, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father Bamberg officiating. Interment was made in the Fantinekill cemetery.

Lemuel DuBois had the misfortune to fall and break his arm near the shoulder. He is being cared for by Patrick Kelly of this place and will probably be laid up for some time.

We congratulate C. Howard Hornbeck on his appointment as postmaster of the Ellenville post office.

Mrs. William Walzenzer of this place is visiting her uncle, Herman Walzenzer, of Middletown, N. Y.

A PRINCESS' LOT

The Grand Duchess of Luxemburg Is Closely Guarded.

REPORTED TO BE ENGAGED.

Barely Twenty-one Years Old, the Youngest Ruler in Europe, Marie Adelaide Is Practically a Prisoner in Her Own Palace.

It is reported that the young Grand Duchess of Luxemburg will marry soon, but the name of the fortunate bridegroom to be is withheld.

Marie Adelaide is one of the most pathetic as well as one of the most romantic figures in the world today. This pretty young girl, barely twenty-one years old, was adored by her prosperous little country before the war broke out. Today she is practically a prisoner in her own palace. Unable to get out without a military escort and forced to look from her prison windows upon a people starving, terrified and forced to live upon charity, she has striven bravely to assert her rights and those of her people in the face of the overwhelming power of the German empire, but the struggle is naturally a hopeless one.

To complete her misery great pressure has been brought to bear upon her to marry a German prince, but this she has refused to do, as she bitterly resents the German invasion of her country. For more than a year the Kaiser's agents have worked hard to persuade the youngest ruler in Europe to become the bride of a German prince, the object being to insure the future control of Luxemburg. So strong did this pressure become that the spirited young duchess revolted against it and, stamping her foot on the floor of her palace, exclaimed:

"I really must be left alone. If I cannot find peace in my own palace I shall soon be forced to seek it in a convent."

The grand duchess is the oldest of six sisters. Her family is a branch of the house of Orange, which rules in Holland. When Wilhelmina became queen of Holland she could not succeed to Luxemburg because of the Salic law. A cousin of Wilhelmina's became Grand Duke of Luxemburg. When he died in 1912, leaving only girl children, the Luxemburg parliament passed a new law making his daughters eligible to the throne.

Colors For Middle Age.

It is safe to say that few women of middle age can wear brown successfully. When the hair is turning white or gray it is particularly unbecoming, as the gray and brown do not harmonize in the least. Brown seems to bring out all the unbecoming yellow qualities in gray hair. Dark blue, on the other hand, lends it a bluish white tinge that is soft and particularly lovely. If your face is sallow never wear green. If, however, your hair is turning gray, but your skin is white and clear, with a soft pink flush in the cheeks, take to green kindly, as it will be most becoming. Lavender and purple are really beautiful on most middle aged women, while black and gray are equally successful. White, however, seldom looks well unless the skin is almost flawless.

Cream of Beet Soup.

Materials: One cupful of beets well cooked, one pint of mutton stock, two teaspoonfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of butter, one pint of milk, salt and pepper.

Utensils: Two saucepans, fine sieve, spoon and cup.

Directions: Cut the beets fine and simmer in the mutton stock fifteen minutes. Rub through sieve. Mix the butter and flour and add to the mutton stock and beet puree. Heat thoroughly, stirring constantly, and add to a pint of hot milk; season with salt and pepper.

Cinnamon Apples.

Core and wash six good sized tart apples. Mix together three rounding tablespoonfuls of sugar with one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Place the apples in a baking pan with three tablespoonfuls of water. Sprinkle over the prepared sugar and bake in a hot oven until tender. Serve hot or cold with thick, sweet cream.

"HEALTH FOODS"

NOW AT

ROSE'S

73 Franklin Street

We have taken the agency for the famous "Health Foods" of the Kellogg Food Company of Battle Creek, Mich. This is a line of diet foods well known to those who have been patients of the Battle Creek Sanitarium and already used by over 60 families in Kingston. While the products are especially useful among invalids, the foods are used nowadays among those who desire to maintain a conservative diet, and it was due to the demand for them here, that we were given the agency.

An expert demonstrator direct from the sanitarium will be at our store all of this week to sample and explain the peculiar virtues of these remarkable foods.

ALEXANDRE RIBOT.

RIBOT SEES END OF THE WAR.

Alexandre Ribot, French minister of finance, believes the end of the war is in sight. In a thrilling speech in the Chamber of Deputies in Paris, he said:

"We have reached the decisive hour. We can say without exaggeration without illusion, and without vain optimism that we now see the end of this horrible war."

The speech of the minister of finance is taken as an expression of the government's confidence regarding the outcome of the battle of Verdun. A wave of optimism is sweeping France.

If She Always Said What She Meant. "Will you be mine?" he asked. "O, no, I will not be yours," she replied. HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, March 21.—The Ladies' Missionary Society held their annual meeting in the lecture room of the Reformed Church the past Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Mrs. James Cantine of Stone Ridge, who is a missionary in Arabia and is home on a vacation, was to have given an address, but was prevented from being present on account of the roads, which were rendered impassable by the heavy drifts. Mrs. Cantine also expected to give an address at Rosendale the previous evening and was unable to keep the engagement. It was a great disappointment to all, but the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Cantine is still to be looked forward to as she expects to address the society some time this May. As the president of the society said before opening the meeting, we are all very much disappointed at not having Mrs. Cantine with us today, but instead of having all of the pleasure now it will be divided. We will have some of it today and still more to look forward to in hearing Mrs. Cantine in May. The president, Mrs. Oscar Church, presided at the meeting. The service opened with the singing of that well known mission hymn, "Hail to the Brightness of Zion's Glad Morning." Following this was the opening prayer, by the president, and the responsive scripture reading. The Misses Ruth Barnhart and Fay Reynolds then rendered a duet entitled "Sail On," one of Billy Sunday's favorite hymns. Miss Elizabeth Krom gave a reading, after which all joined in singing, "Christ For the World We Sing." Readings were also given by Mrs. Thomas Snyder and Miss Cynthia Van Wagenen. The Rev. Mrs. Dangremond made a few fitting remarks and the meeting was brought to a close by the singing of "Our Country Voice is Pleading," followed by the Lord's prayer. After the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Dainty refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. The mite boxes which had been brought in were opened and counted after the meeting. The money amounted to $36.12. $25 was given to make Miss Mary C. Van Wagenen a life member of the society. During the missionary year the sum of $112 has been raised for the cause of missions.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Farrell gave a St. Patrick's dance at the Rock Cliff House on Friday evening. There were a large number present and all spent a most delightful evening. The music was excellent. The rooms were cleared for dancing and the floors were quickly filled. At twelve o'clock refreshments were served, but the party did not break up until the wee small hours of the morning. Among those present from Stone Ridge were John Hess, Miss Elizabeth Hess and Harry Pelen, and Alphonso Cleff, Edward DeWitt of Allgerville, and Aitaut and Cyrus Deup of Kiskadee were also at the dance.

Miss Belle Parker was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Krom the past week end.

Vera Jeanette, the daughter of Mrs. Daniel Murphy has been very ill with the pneumonia.

On account of the absence of Mrs. John B. Snyder, the president of the Pine Mountain League, there was no meeting the past Saturday. Notice will be given regarding the next meeting.

John Carman of Kingston attended the dance at the Rock Cliff House on Friday evening.

The little daughter of Daniel Gheer has been ill.

Miss Mary C. Van Wagenen called at the home of Mrs. Egbert Stalls on Thursday afternoon.

On account of the severe storm the past week which rendered the roads impassable there was no prayer service the past Wednesday evening in the Reformed Church. There will be service this evening. The topic which was to have been taken up the past Wednesday will be taken up at this meeting. Topic, "Causes of Failure in Life." Prov. 10. 1-32.

The new church officers will be installed on the first Sunday in April.

FACTS ABOUT FISH.

What the Ulster County Protective Association Has Accomplished.

Some facts about fish life from the time the little squirming atom of animal life leaves the egg to the time when it is safely anchored on the fisherman's hook or fly may be of interest to lovers of the angling sport.

The temperature of the water should be between 44 and 48 degrees to bring about successful hatching of the eggs. The tiny fish break through the shell first but occasionally they voyage into the world with their heads issuing from the shell before the interior end and when this happens the fish strangle to death on account of the sharp edge of the shell. The reason that accounts for the breaking of the tail through the shell before the head is that the waving of the tail breaks the shell, thus giving free passage for the rest of the body.

After each fish hatches, nature has provided each with a sack of nourishment upon which it lives by absorption for about 30 days, during which time it remains under the surface of the water. After this period of infant growth is completed the fish rises to the surface of the water, always facing up-stream to catch the food floating with the current.

Because big fish devour the eggs and small fish, only 3 per cent of the eggs hatched mature into fish that are big enough to catch. For instance, if a trout lays 5,000 eggs only 150 would attain size to be enticed by a worm or fly.

Instead of giving fishermen a chance at the 150, the anglers' chances are made bigger by allowing them to draw the 5,000, due to the efforts of the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association, which plant the fish in the streams instead of the eggs, as nature provides. The local association notifies the state hatcheries of the shortage in the streams and they are killed accordingly. If it were not for this work by local anglers interested, the streams would soon be depopulated. Sportsmen should think this over and send $2 for membership fee for one year to keep the streams at 100 per cent efficiency instead of the sad percentage of 3 per cent.

MEXICAN BANDITS WIPE OUT A TOWN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Galveston, Tex., March 21.—The little town of Delicias in south western Coahuila, was wiped out by bandits last week, according to stories reaching the border today. It is said that more than twenty of the inhabitants were killed during the raid and that every house was burned after being robbed. Whether any Americans lost their lives in the raid is not known.

The stories declare that the raiders were remnants of defeated Carranza soldiers in the state of Durango. All horses and cattle were driven off by the bandits. Several of the dead are women who protested against their homes being robbed. At the cathedral one of the priests was killed and the church was robbed and burned, the stories allege.

BUFFALO STRIKE COMES TO AN END

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Buffalo, March 21.—Eighty per cent of about 20,000 men who were obliged to give up their work as a result of the machinists strike which was declared here about two weeks ago returned to work this morning. Fifty eight hundred men were affected at the plant of the Pierce Arrow Motor Company and 80 per cent of them returned to their jobs.

The King Sewing Machine Company and the shops of the Ericson Mfg. Co., were reopened and all but about twenty per cent of the employees reported. The plants mentioned shut down completely when the machinists strike was declared. At the time it was said a majority of the men were opposed to the strike. At all of the plants the men have been making unusually good wages because of war orders. No trouble had been reported up to ten o'clock.

MILITARY TO RIGHT-ABOUT. Ve Composer Affected by Fashions in Feminine Preparedness.

In last night's Freeman a quarter column article on the coming fashion review at Van Wagenen's created a great deal of interest among the women of this community, who are fast learning that it is not necessary to go to New York to see the latest approved modes.

Considerable wonderment was manifested today, however, in regard to certain "Military Dresses" that the article enumerated among the list of fashionable apparel to be shown. The reporter's copy read "military, dresses," which the compositor translated as "military dresses," evidently in the belief that such styles would be quite fitting and proper at his stage of world history.

So The Freeman takes this opportunity of dispelling all thoughts of anything "military" in connection with this Van Wagenen Style Review, and heralds in its stead most inviting displays of spring millinery and apparel for feminine preparedness.

Muller's orchestra will render a select program each day and it is expected that in the final arrangement of the decorations and displays, seats for at least five hundred visitors will be provided.

Monday Club.
The Monday Club met this week at the home of Mrs. Kenyon. Miss Munn had the paper for the day, her subject being, "Russian Industries and Great Russian Fairs." Following the excellent paper, an animated discussion on "Crime and Punishment," was set in motion by the membership committee. The club will meet again next week with Mrs. Kenyon.

Many Hear Song Recital.
The chapel of the First Dutch Church, was filled on Monday evening, with an audience anxious to hear the song recital to be given by Mrs. Margaret Raper of Passaic, N. J., the subject being, "Eusebius, the Humberdick's opera, Hansel and Gretel." Mrs. Raper told how the opera originated as a poetical setting of the fairy tale of the same name, written by Hans Anderson, and poetically arranged by a sister of Humperdick, for her children. So deftly did Humperdick set the poem to music, that his friends persuaded him to rearrange it once more as opera, which was done. Being a great admirer of Wagner, he followed the Wagnerian operatic idea of presenting personages, situations and circumstances by means of musical motifs. Mrs. Raper recited much of the opera in a most realistic manner, incidentally describing the stage effects. The more noted songs of the opera she also sang. Mr. Dodge accompanying her, at the piano. Mr. Dodge also played the orchestral parts of the opera, adding greatly to the pleasure of the evening as his playing always artistic and finished.

Soiskanishade Club.
The Soiskanishade Club held a well attended and enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry S. Plunkett on Bruyn avenue on Monday. The roll call was on "The Benefit of the Public Library," and the discussion brought out the advantages to be gained through a public library, also the assistance that might be given the library through the gift of new books. Mrs. Plunkett had the paper for the day, her subject being, "Elizabeth Stuart Phelps." She gave an excellent presentation of the life and works of this gifted woman, who was born in Boston, at the time when Unitarianism and Transcendentalism held sway. With ancestors of such conservatism that they believed any other vocation for women than home keeping was not only improper, but almost an evidence of witchcraft, it took courage as well as talent, for a young girl to write for publication. At sixteen years of age her first article appeared in the Atlantic Monthly, and later she wrote for the Youths' Companion and Harper's. Her best known books were "Gates Ajar," and "Beyond the Gates." However, from a literary standpoint, many of her short stories are far superior to her books, especially her stories for children. Mrs. Styles had a short paper on "The American Stage." She contrasted the actors, the plays, and the salaries of a century ago, with those of today. The prominence of the moving picture plays now so popular on the stage, was considered, and the time, labor and money necessary to produce and present the films was interestingly described. Next week the club will meet with Mrs. William J. Cranston at her home, No. 175 Clinton avenue.

Optimistic Thought.
It is better to have an open enemy than an insincere friend.

TWO VETERANS OF CHAMPION PHILLIES

Two Players Who Have Seen Many Years' Service in National League Circuit.

Bobby Byrne is the dean of the Phillies when it comes to servitude in the National league, while of the new champs George McQuillan ranks first in having played with the Quaker team. Nineteen hundred and seven was the year the two former Pirates made their debuts in the Tener organization, Byrne being in St. Louis' line-up on the blow-off day of the campaign and McQuillan being briefly in evidence in a contest with the Quakers during the second month of the championship running. Paskert's first game in the National was played the same year.

George McQuillan played his first game in the National league with the Cardinals April 11. He covered third, failed to make a hit off Orvie Overall of the Cubs and had a record in the field of two putouts, four assists and one error.

George McQuillan played his first game in the National league with the Phillies on May 8.

YALE LOSES CRACK PITCHER HORSES SELL FOR $696,000

Pie Way, Considered Mainstay of Baseball Squad, Has Been Declared Ineligible to Play.

Pie Way, who had been much talked of as the probable captain of the Yale baseball team in the event of Captain Milburn retiring on account of his ineligibility, also is ineligible to play this season, according to an announcement made at New Haven. Way played one season with the Norwich university team before he entered Yale.

The loss of Way, who was considered the mainstay of the nine since the five men who played ball at Quogue were disqualified, will be keenly felt by the team. The only veteran pitchers left now are Watrous and Underwood, left handers, who have never yet had much experience in the big games. Way had been rated as the best pitcher on the varsity squad, having played in practically all the championship games.

Indians Get Guy Chamberlain.
Guy Chamberlain, who is regarded as one of the greatest football players ever developed at Nebraska university, has signed a contract with the Indianapolis American association club. Chamberlain is a left-handed pitcher, who had considerable success with the Nebraska team.

Stovall Paid in Full.
George Stovall, manager of the Kansas City Federal league club, declares he has been paid in full and has no kick coming. He gives credit to Charles Weeghman, president of the Cubs, and Harry Sinclair for giving him what he terms his just dues.

Ed Walsh is Optimistic.
Ed Walsh, the Big Moose of the White Sox, has no intention of quitting baseball and is authority for the assertion that his pitching wing is all right. He expects the White Sox to win the American league pennant this year.

Red Sox Sign Shorten.
The Boston Red Sox have signed Charles H. Shorten, outfielder from the Providence club of the International league.

Good Judge.
"I take great pride in my ability to judge human nature," said Ike Van Quentin. "A few months ago I let a friend have $10 and I was confident at the time he would not pay it back. And he didn't."—Kansas City Star.

AMERICAN & CARRANZISTA SOLDIERS AT BORDER LINE. (INTL. FILM SERVICE.)

AMERICAN TROOPERS AND CARRANZISTAS MEET ON THE BORDER.

The picture shows American soldiers and Carranzista troops fraternizing on the international border near Columbus, N. M., just before the American troops crossed the border and began the march to capture Villa.

LOADING SUPPLIES FOR THE MARCH INTO MEXICO. (INTL. FILM SERVICE.)

Men of the Sixteenth Infantry are shown here loading supply trains to be moved across the border. On account of the barren territory and the unfriendliness of many Mexicans, the United States punitive expedition in pursuit of Villa and his followers will be forced to depend almost entirely upon supplies and even water rushed from the United States. Very little farming has been done in the territory where Villa has taken refuge, and foraging parties will not be able to even buy enough food for their own sustenance.

READING THE HAND. Servian Superstitions.

The daily life of the Servian is full of superstition. He is superstitious about the manner in which he rises in the morning, about what first meets his sight, how he dresses and washes and whom he meets, of what food he eats and the time and manner of serving throughout the entire day. Attention is also paid to whether the cocks crow in time, whether dogs bark much, if frogs croak or the wind blows. Again, special notice is taken of the kind of rain that falls, thunder, how stars shine, if the moon has a halo, if it shines through a cloud, etc. The "evil eye" is alone accountable for disease and death. The Servian believes that for each malady that flesh is heir to God has given a remedy. He believes that for each pain there is a healing herb. He believes in witches—beautiful young maidens who come forth from the dew and are nourished in a mysterious mountain. They meet in the branches of trees and are most dangerous at supper time.

Most Murderers, It is Said, Show Their Characters in Their Palms.
A French savant contends that the murderer has a distinctive hand. His face may not be hideous, but the hands are and are self-condemnatory. Evidence on the latter characteristic is scanty and rests upon the investigations of the French criminologists; but, as to the former, it is a fact that some of the most brutal murders on record have been perpetrated by men whose countenances habitually wore a very mild expression.

Deeming was a pleasant man to speak to until crossed, but some of the authorities who examined his hands declare his broad thumb indicated the born murderer.

The true ballheaded thumb gives to the first phalanx a round, bulbous appearance. It is short, and the nail is so abbreviated as to suggest that it has been gnawed. It is embedded in the flesh, which rises on either side and beyond it.

Dumolard, a wholesale murderer, had a hand remarkable for its thickness and length of palm in proportion to the fingers. He had a significant sign, common to most murderers—namely, almost entire absence of lines in the palm, save the three principal ones—the lines of life, head and heart. These lines were very strongly defined. The line of the head—the center line extending across the palm—was violently cut by the line of life running upward from the wrist. Chromancy interprets this to foretell a violent death. His fingers were knotty and uneven at the nail phalanges. Nebraska Legal News.

THE ART OF NORWAY.

It Reflects the Early Peasant and the National Character.
Long before the art of painting was practiced in Norway the Norwegian peasant, like his Magyar contemporary, had developed an art that was and still remains thoroughly national. The Norwegian peasant art, like that of other countries, is characterized by a primitive purity of color that anticipates the art of today and forms, so to speak, a connecting link that ties the present to the past. If we remember the crude vigor and bold color of this early peasant art we shall perhaps better understand contemporary Norwegian art.

Temporarily they are the same. We find in both the same characteristics of forthrightness of expression, the same bold, uncompromising design and color. Moreover, both are alike in that the aim of each is to fill a given space with a design that will form a decoration. Much of modern art is in this direction, and contemporary Norwegian art is no exception to this.

If this art appears somewhat rough and crude, more forceful and original than polished and ingratiating, it is the fault of the national character rather than of the art itself. We are not a suave people; we are somewhat blunt and direct, and these racial qualities are expressing themselves more and more in our art as it gradually emancipates itself from foreign influences and returns to its basic character.—J. Nielsen Laurvik in Century.

India's Telegraph Plant.

There are many strange species in the vegetable world, and among some of the queerest may be mentioned what is called the telegraph plant. This plant hails from India, and each of its large leaves is composed of three portions. During the day the largest one stretches out toward the sun, so as to catch the full warmth and brightness, but when night comes on the big leaf turns down, while each of the small petals works day and night.

moving, as it were, independently. They describe, in somewhat jerky movements, complete circles, thus deriving their name.

Her One Failing.
Frank was an ardent lover and, like most lovers, was of a rather jealous disposition. He was always worrying Ellen with silly questions, most of which she answered patiently.

The other day he reached the limit, however, when he asked: "Why are you so sure that you will always love me just as much as you do now?"

Ellen thought it time to alter her treatment of his one fault. "Because," she answered gently, "I am never able to cure myself of any of my bad habits."—London Answers.

Qualified.
Tommy, with a determined look on his face, marched into the parlor and up to his pretty sister's ardent suitor. "What's them?" he demanded, thrusting out a grimy hand full of small white objects.

"Buns," promptly replied the young man, with an ingratiating smile. "He does know 'em, maw," bawled Tommy triumphantly to the adjoining room. "You said he didn't!"—Puck.

And None Alike.
"There are three kinds of switch tenders." "Count 'em off." "There's the man at the railroad crossing, the woman at the telephone office and the woman who wears false hair."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Asiatic Turkey.
Asiatic Turkey had a civilization thousands of years ago. The interior of that country is populated today by farmers to whom modern knives and forks are unknown. The spoons they use are of wood, and each family makes its own.

KINGSTON LOST
PATERSON GAME

The first game of the championship series between Kingston, N. Y. and Paterson, N. J., winners of the first and second halves of the Interstate Basketball League tournament, respectively, was staged at Paterson on last Saturday evening before an attendance that more than taxed the capacity of the Silk City armory.

Paterson triumphed in the last half minute of play as a result of Swenson dropping in a foul from the fifteen foot mark. The final score was 23-22 and the game was replete with the most sensational long shots seen this year. The shooting of Henschel of Kingston was phenomenal. Out of seven tries he scored five times from way past the center of the floor. It was principally due to his good work that Kingston had a lead in the first half, the score at ending being 17-11.

The homesters switched their lineup and inserted Beckman in place of Clinton in the second half and succeeded in catching up to the visitors before three minutes had passed. From then the score was pretty nearly even until the final minute when it was tied at 22 all, at which time Swenson scored his foul and the game was practically over.

On Thursday March 23rd, at the Jersey City armory, the second game of the series will be played, and accommodations have been reserved for a still large turnout than witnessed the exciting battle on last Saturday.

Life and Character Reading

This Loroscope shows men of this date are apt to be dissipated, but they never become brutal although having exceedingly quick tempers. They always have something new on hand to accomplish. Leaders of great institutions and reforms are born under this sign which is that of Pisces-Aries.

Born on this date, you will possess unusual brain power with the added ability to carry out to the successful end your projects, schemes and details. Women of this birthdate are very fond of men's society, but do not often marry nor stay married. Men of this birthdate are more eager to marry, but are exceedingly cautious in choosing a life partnership and demand absolute loyalty.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 21.—Stocks were in brisk demand at the opening with an absence of pressure which marked the trading all through yesterday's operations. Extensive gains were made in many stocks with the specialties ranging in the first few minutes 3 to 4 points above yesterday's close. Mexican Petroleum gained 3 1/2 to 111. Industrial Alcohol advanced 4 points to 158 and Crucible Steel, American Zinc and Marine preferred showed gains of around 2 points. Advances of more than a point were made in many of the standard issues including Steel Common. The last named stock sold at 85 1/2, a gain of 1 1/2 but a supply appeared causing a quick recession to 84 1/2. American Zinc dropped from 86 1/2 to 85 1/2 on this reaction and Industrial Alcohol dropped to 157. Marine Preferred reacted to 73. Similar advances and recessions were noted in nearly all the stocks in which there were active dealings.

Price movements were irregular in the late forenoon, some issues being offered in large blocks at concessions, while others were in fairly good demand at slightly higher prices. Tennessee Copper dropped 2 points to 54 and Rock Island a point to 16 1/2. Chesapeake and Ohio declined from 64 1/2 to 63 1/2. Butte and Superior was strong, advancing 2 points to 89 1/2. Mexican Petroleum sold at 109 1/2, Crucible at 9 1/2, and Baldwin at 107 1/2. Commercial held steady around 84 1/2. Many of the war order issues fluctuated sharply. Money lending 2 per cent.

Heavy selling was again in evidence in the late afternoon. The war order issues showed renewed weakness, Crucible Steel dropping to 89 1/2, Baldwin to 106, Industrial Alcohol to 155, and Studebaker yielded 2 points to 141. Third Avenue was strong, however, advancing 1 1/2 to 63.

The market closed weak. A wave of selling took place in the last hour when many industrial issues sold over 2 points. Fractional losses were sustained in steel common and other standard issues. Crucible and Studebaker were the weakest features. Third Avenue was exceptionally firm. Government bonds unchanged; others irregular.

Ancient Basket Makers.
The Worsnupful Company of Basket Makers dates back to 1569, but basket making was a recognized craft in London more than a century before then. In 1463 basket makers "and other for eigners" were banished by the common council to the old manor of Blanche Appleton, and in 1538 even those English basket makers who were still permitted to live in the city were similarly dealt with, on account of their indifference to the dancer from fire.—London Chronicle.

A Unique Specimen.
"I once knew an eccentric man," stated old Festus Fester, "who when he had got the desired number on the telephone did not demand fiercely, 'Whiz zis?' Instead he invariably said civilly, 'This is John I. Poppendick, wishing to speak to Mr. Buck- over.' His funeral was the largest ever held in the neighborhood where he had resided, and thereat strong men broke down and wept like children, being convinced that they would never again see his like."—Judge.

Shakespearean.

"Parting," quoths Harold, "is such sweet sorrow that I could say good night till!"
At this speech father gets a Shakespearean inspiration of his own and tramps down the stairs.
"Seems to me," he asserts, "that there is too much adieu about nothing here."—Philadelphia Ledger.

SETS MANY RECORDS

Kohlemainen, Finnish Runner, Lays Brick in Day Time.

Nothing Like Running Up and Down Ladders to Keep Man in Good Physical Condition—He Can Run Any Distance.

Laying bricks by day and setting up new track records at night and on holidays is the daily occupation of Hannes Kohlemainen, the great Finnish distance runner, now attached to the Irish-American Athletic club of New York, says a Philadelphia dispatch to Indianapolis News.

"There is nothing like running up and down ladders and stairs carrying bricks to keep a man in good physical condition," said Kohlemainen when one of his friends came across him in New York the other day following the trade he learned when he was a boy in Finland. "This outdoor work is what I like."

Kohlemainen continues to be the marvel of the athletic world as a distance runner, and he shows not the slightest sign of going back now that he has become acclimated. He can run any distance from two miles to the Marathon distance and at record-breaking speed. The number of records he now holds is legion, but he intends to keep plugging away after new indoor and outdoor marks. What he would like best of all would be to break the American record of 9:17.45 for the two-mile run, now held by Tell Berra, the old Cornell distance star. Kohlemainen and his trainer, Lawson Robertson, think his record is at the Finn's mercy whenever he goes after it properly.

It was not until the Olympic games of 1912 that Kohlemainen attracted attention on this side of the water. At the Stockholm games he performed the almost unprecedented feat of running eight distance races in less than two weeks without losing one. These included heats in the 3,000 meters, 5,000 meters, team race and the cross country championship. Kohlemainen proved himself not only a man of iron to even run so many races, but also the world's premier distance star by winning them all and beating in each the world's best.

Kohlemainen was an object of great interest to the Americans and the little Finn was impressed so deeply with the splendidly trained Americans that he was not long in coming to this country. When he arrived he could speak hardly a word of English, but he has quickly mastered the American tongue and now he has decided to make this country his permanent home.

Java's Finest Temple to Buddha.

In his posthumous work, "Java," D. W. Campbell goes minutely into the antiquities of Java, which consist of a number of ruins of temples and of other sacred edifices, formerly dedicated to the religion of the people, who, after first embracing Brahmanism, changed their faith (about A. D. 450) to Buddhism and a thousand years later to Mohammedanism. The greatest of the temples is Boro-Boedoe (or Boro-Budur, as Mr. Campbell spells it). It is the finest example of its kind extant; in fact, Buddhism has left no such record anywhere else. Nobody knows exactly when the temple was built, but it is generally believed to be 1200 years old, though some authorities date it as late as the thirteenth century. There are 486 images of Buddha in the temple. For centuries it lay buried and was unearthed by an Indian officer, Colonel Colin Mackenzie. Two hundred coolies a day were working for six weeks in clearing the riotous luxuriance of tropical bushes and creepers, but it was years before the temple was entirely uncovered.

One Gladstone Interview.

An amusing glimpse of the famous statesman Gladstone was once given by John Murray of the publishing house which issued many of Mr. Gladstone's writings and speeches. "The last time I was at Mr. Gladstone's house," said Mr. Murray, "I had breakfast early and alone, as I was going to Scotland. When I had finished I was told that Mr. Gladstone did not know that I was leaving so early and that he wanted to have another talk with me. I went to his bedroom—a very large room with a double bed in it. Mrs. Gladstone was in her dressing room.

"Gladstone was dressed in a nightgown with a brown shawl round him. He was lying flat on his face, his head at the foot of the bed and his feet on the pillows. In one hand he held a cup of coffee, and there was a book in the other. I shall never forget that interview and the comicality of the great lion head popping up as I went toward him."

Her Pride Hurt.

"Your fashionable friend seems to be threatened with palpitation of the heart."

"Yes; she just received a dreadful shock."

"And what happened to fortune's favorite?"

"She was sitting in an employment office waiting for a chance to look at a cook when a haughty dame swept up and offered her a job"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

An Extremist.

"What in the world does old Kloseman want with more money? He hasn't any near relatives, and he doesn't begin to spend his income now."

"That's just the point. He wants to economize on a larger scale."—Boston Transcript.

He Had Painted Too.

"My dear fellow," said the artist, "you can't imagine how much work there was in painting that picture."

"Oh, yes, I can," said the young country lad; "my father made me paint the barn one summer."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Futile Task.

Art a Trustworthy History.
Great nations write their autobiographies in three manuscripts—the book of their deeds, the book of their words and the book of their art. Not one of these books can be understood unless we read the two others, but of the three the only quite trustworthy one is the last. The acts of a nation may be triumphant by its good fortune, and its words might be the genius of a few of its children, but its art only by the general gifts and common sympathies of the race.—John Ruskin.

Camel Carriages.
Camel carriages are not common conveniences in most parts of India but on the great trunk road leading to Delhi they are frequently to be seen. They are large, double story wagons, drawn sometimes by one, sometimes by two or even three camels, according to their size. Iron bars which give them a caselike appearance were originally intended as a defense against robbers, and the cars were probably also used for the conveyance of prisoners.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

(Jim Gilmore wonders if the Baltimore folks are "sore" at him.—News Item.)

Jim to Baltimore.

I'm wond'ring if you love me
In dear old Baltimore.
Do you think of me with kindness
Or are you awfully sore?

Baltimore to Jim.

Oh, yes, dear Jimmy, we love you.
Like Belgium loves Wilhelm.
Come back to Maryland, Jimmy.
Come back just once again.
A welcome awaits you, Jimmy.
A heated one—don't fret.
We'll give you a hot reception.
One that you'll never forget.

Gilmore and Baltimore.

As you'll notice from the above, the Baltimoreans would like to have Jim Gilmore drop around some day—the sooner the better. They're anxious to see again the leader of the deceased Feds—far more anxious, it seems, than Gilmore is to see them.

When peace negotiations were entered into, the Baltimore Feds were left out in the cold. Other magnates in the "outlaw" circuit were taken care of, but the Baltimore people got what is classed as "the rawest deal in baseball history."

Gilmore never has explained satisfactorily to the backers of the Baltimore club—or the public at large—just why Baltimore was "dumped." The Gilmore action in this respect ever will remain a mystery.

Actions Belied Words.

"If peace ever comes, every club in the Federal League must be taken care of—or there will be no deal."

That's what Gilmore used to say in war-time days. He made it emphatic time and again that no pact of any kind ever would be made unless all the Feds shared in its benefits.

But when peace came, with Gilmore engineering the proceedings for the Feds, the $200,000 investment of the Baltimoreans in a Federal franchise was utterly disregarded. The Marylanders pleaded with Gilmore to protect their interests—to fulfill his promise that "all will be taken care of when peace comes." But Gilmore didn't.

It's just about time for Gilmore to make some explanations regarding that Baltimore angle. The situation demands it. Gilmore saw to it that the interests of practically all the other club owners were protected. Why did he permit the freezing out of Baltimore?

Gilmore Should Explain.

The Baltimore folks had something like $150,000 tied up in their ball park. When peace came, and their league ceased to exist, the park no longer was of any use to them. What happened? They were forced to sell it for $25,000 to Jack Dunn, owner of the International team in that town.

The price was ridiculously low in comparison with the actual cost of the park. But the Feds had to accept Dunn's offer—or have the park remain a taxation burden. Dunn was the only possible customer. The least that Gilmore might have done during the negotiations was to insure Baltimore getting a fair price for its ball yard.

As was the case in other cities, the war ended with the Baltimore club having under contract many good ball players. Did Gilmore pave the way for the Baltimore folks to sell their players at a reasonable price? "No!" asserted the Baltimoreans. Gilmore, it seems, was so busy fixing up nice deals for the Wards, of Brooklyn, Hall, of St. Louis, Weegman of Chicago, and the others that he had no time left in which to use his persuasive tongue in behalf of Baltimore.

Jim Gilmore ought to come out of seclusion long enough to explain—or attempt to explain—some of the charges that have been made against him as the result of the so-called "throwing" of Baltimore.

KINGSTON GIRLS WIN IN CATSKILL

"A delightful program was enjoyed after which tea was served," would be an appropriate description of the basketball game which the Girls' Varsity Five of the Kingston high school and the Catskill high school girls played at Catskill Saturday afternoon and which finally developed into a 42 to 0 score, with Catskill in possession of the goose egg.

This was the fourteenth consecutive victory for the girls and the "softest" contest in which the damsels have yet participated. It was more on the lines of an everyday practice affair and the whole thing was a matter of disgust to the home lassies although the big score will go on their record for the season and help swell the large number of points thus far tallied by them.

Far be it from the Catskill females to anger over the result. They unconcernedly let the Kingstonians trample their colors in the dust and treated the visitors as if they were guests at a thimble party, entertaining them after the game and gamely consenting to play a return contest in this city in a few weeks. The first half of the game, which was played in the Catskill Y. M. C. A., ended with the count, 13 to 0, but in the last session the locals proceeded to enliven matters and scooped the ball in the nets with little trouble.

Miss Sadford, bright twinkler in the basketball heavens, was again "old faithful" on the firing line and netted a neat total of 29 points for the afternoon's enjoyment. Athletics Weber and Herdman, the right forwards, took care of the other points scored. The girls' rules by which the contest was played prevented scoring by the guards and center. The score:

Webster's Team Won.

Webster's bowling team downed Wood's team by 21 pins in the ninth game of the series last night on the Y. M. C. A. alleys, making the standing of the two factions 5 to 4, with Webster's five in the lead. Both teams were far below par and the only bowlers showing form were Wood and Thompson. Captain Wood of the losers was a shade better than Thompson in the total number of pins bowled but both were neck and neck in the highest single game, each gathering a pair of 213 in the first round. The next contest will determine who shall provide the cats, because it is the misfortune of the loser to treat the winners to a dinner at the close of the series, according to the regulations which the two clans drew up before the contest. If the ten-game series ends in a tie, another game will be staged to decide which aggregation is better. Wood's followers are now commenting on the loss of sleep nights while their opponents are comfortably reposing with the thought of their one game lead in mind. The score:

He may rest assured, however, that he has the best wishes of his congregation and friends in Glasco for the future success of his ministry, and the contentment and happiness of himself and Mrs. Cole. It gives an interesting account of the arduous duties and self-denying labor of missionary work, at the same time conveying a spirit of cheer and encouragement over results that are convincing to any one that contributions in behalf of foreign missions are a good safe investment, like "bread cast upon the waters."

TOBACCO FRAUDS REACH MILLIONS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, March 21.—Nation-wide tobacco frauds by which the government has been swindled out of untold millions of dollars in revenues, have been uncovered by agents of the treasury department. It was announced today. Officials declared that the system by which these gigantic frauds were perpetrated, when fully exposed, will be the most pretentious in the history of the country.

New York, March 21.—Federal officials estimated today that the government had lost more than $500,000 in New York alone through the operation of a ring of manufacturers of cigars and cigarettes who have sold their products without paying the internal revenue tax. It is believed that the ring had its headquarters here, but its operations extended to many sections of the country.

The round up of dealers accused of taking part in the work of fraud began late yesterday and was still in progress today.

Thirty-six prisoners were held in jail totalling $45,500. The officers making the arrests had more than 50 warrants left to serve.

HOME RULE ON LIQUOR QUESTION

Vermont Election Shows That the State is Strong for Local Option as Against Statewide Prohibition.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Burlington, March 21.—Vermont recently rejected state prohibition by 13,000 votes. Before the election, Vermont was dryer than Kansas. There were in the entire state only twenty license towns and sixty saloons, less than in the business section of Boston.

It had always been the experience in other states that when a sufficient number of country districts had been made "dry" by local option, then the road to state-wide prohibition was comparatively easy.

Vermont is the first state in recent years to go against this established precedent.

In rural district, in township and in village, the Vermonters marched to the polls and voted against state-wide prohibition whether their town was already "dry" or not. There was a sort of tacit understanding that one community had no right to tell another community what was good for that other community. The Vermont spirit, it is the way the papers described it.

Grand Isle, the first town to reject, defeated state prohibition 73 to 32, but voted for local prohibition 87 to 78. Shelburne voted 167 to 53 against state prohibition while the vote for license was 141 to 72. In South Burlington on state prohibition the vote was, yes 43, no 83, while the vote on local license was, yes 28, no 81.

Underhill on state prohibition voted, yes 47, no 99, and on local license, yes 56, no 88. Williston on state prohibition voted, yes 63, no 76, and on local license, yes 34, no 90. Milton's vote on state prohibition was, yes 106, no 162, and on local license, yes 112, no 228. Richford's vote on state prohibition was, yes 182, no 178, and on local license, yes 112, no 228. Ferrisburg's vote on state prohibition was, yes 82, no 105, and on local license, yes 31, no 144. Jericho, the only other of these sixteen towns in addition to Richford to give a majority for the measure, voted, yes 105, no 61, and on local license, yes 28, no 158. Richmond's vote on state prohibition was, yes 82, no 169, and on local license, yes 104, no 125.

The president of the Vermont Local Option League was James M. Tyler, former justice of the supreme court. Justice Tyler, now passed eighty years of age, is a total abstainer. On the other hand he does not believe that it is a crime for another to have wine on the table, but he is not an advocate of even moderate drinking. He believes that each man must decide for himself whether he shall drink and to what extent. And what applies to the individual must also apply to the community. In other words each unit of population shall decide how liquor shall be brought into that community.

This Vermont election has already been heralded the breadth of the country as a victory for the liquor interests. This, in spite of the views held by the anti-prohibition leaders, and in spite of the fact that nine-tenths of Vermont remains dryer than Maine or Kansas. And it is a victory for the liquor interests, this because liquor interests have been wise enough to adopt the "Vermont idea" as their own and the Anti-Saloon League played into their hands by attempting to force state-wide prohibition on Vermont, which was already satisfied with local option for the purpose of annexing the Vermont senators for nation-wide prohibition. The election was a surprise to both sides.

WHITMAN CONFERS WITH LEGISLATORS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, March 21.—Governor Whitman today held two important conferences with legislative leaders. On the outcome of one depends whether there is to be a direct tax imposed next year. It is understood that if the state police bill and the proposed changes in the national guard go through and half of the automobile money is returned to the counties, that a direct tax will be necessary.

The feeling was that the appropriation bills would be judiciously pruned and then passed.

The governor also conferred with George Foster Peabody, Senator Brown, Assemblyman Maier, Conservation Commissioner Pratt, Speaker Sweet and others on the plan of placing the Saratoga reservation under the conservation commission, to the end that the reservation would be a source of income rather than expense. The matter was thoroughly gone over but nothing was decided upon.

Miss Frieda Randall spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Gertrude Sylvester.

The young people are contemplating getting up another play in the near future.

L. S. Randall was a Kingston visitor on Monday.

Mrs. Minnie Gerald and her uncle, James DeVal, called on Mrs. W. A. Slyvert on Saturday afternoon.

A number are still suffering with severe colds and we are still getting a little more snow every day or so. It certainly hasn't the appearance of spring.

Cutting Canal Through Ice.

Something unusual for the first day of spring was the work of cutting a canal through the ice in the Rondout creek of sufficient width to admit the passage of an ice barge. The canal is being cut from the Cornell dock to the Hiltbrandt Dry Dock Company's plant at South Rondout. The barge has just been completed at the yard and will be brought to the Cornell dock and loaded with ice that at present is stored in box cars on the Ulster & Delaware railroad tracks. When the river opens the barge with the other loaded barges moored in the creek will be towed to New York city.

Mrs. Asquith Vindicated.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, March 21.—Mrs. H. H. Asquith, wife of the premier, defeated the Globe today in her libel action for damages which was based on letters published in that paper accusing her of playing tennis with German officers interned at Donnington Hall and also of sending them gifts. Mrs. Asquith denied that she had ever been to Donnington Hall, and said there was no foundation for the allegations.

Flood Damage Feared.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Syracuse, March 21.—Alarm is increasing both in this city and the outlying sections following the first thaw of the season, which started yesterday and is continuing today. With snow piled four and five feet deep on the watersheds of this section the worst flood in local history is looked for, should rain fall in considerable quantity.

Horse Was There.

The drawing teacher recently used a small toy horse as a model for the first-grade drawing lesson. She was walking down the aisle and watching the progress of the pupils when she came to Bob, who had drawn a different object. "Why, Bob," she asked, "what have you drawn?" "A barn," said Bob. "But why didn't you draw the horse?" "Can't you see," said Bob disgustedly, "the horse is in the barn?"

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS NOTES

Thursday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock there will be a demonstration of corn judging given to the agricultural classes of the high school. Recently the students in these classes have made several tests to determine the relative germinating qualities of but and tip kernels as compared with booby kernels of an ear of corn. Among these were tests known as the flat test and the "rag baby test."

Lecture by Mr. Hook. Thursday evening of this week W. R. Hook, manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, will deliver a lecture in the high school auditorium on grubs and insects and their relation to our gardens. This is primarily for the benefit of the agricultural and biology classes of the school, but the general public is cordially invited to enjoy this lecture along with the students. This lecture has been given by Mr. Hook at other places with great success as it has proven both entertaining and instructive. Part of this lecture was given to the agricultural classes about six weeks ago, and the department so appreciated its value that it has requested Mr. Hook to repeat it this Thursday.

Incubator in Operation. An incubator has kindly been loaned the students of the industrial department of the school by the Canfield Supply Company and is now in operation. It is affording a great deal of interest and moreover instruction, and the wood-working department has set about to make its own brooder in which to house the school chicks when they put in their appearance.

Student Chautauqua Tickets. As has been customary there will be tickets available for the use of high school or eighth grade students for the Chautauqua entertainments at one dollar a ticket. This instructive course starts May fourth and continues until the 10th, and tickets may be obtained at the office of the superintendent of schools any time before the fourth of May. This year these tickets will not be transferable and must bear the signature of the bearer, as well as that of the superintendent of schools.

The Minstrels. This Friday evening the Debating Club will give its long planned minstrel show. The program is made up of one succession of hearty laughs, jokes and personals. Nobody in the school will think of missing this great opportunity of hearing everybody in the school get knocked. The tickets now on sale are 15 cents and the performance will begin at 8 o'clock.

Basketball. Tuesday afternoon there will be a novel game of girls' basketball played in the high school gymnasium. The blonds are going to play the brunettes. The light and dark young ladies are fairly well divided in this particular activity, and the contest will probably be one of no little interest.

Thursday afternoon the Midget team intends to play a five from Saugerties. An admission of 10 cents will be charged which goes to pay for their uniforms, all of which have had to be bought this season.

THEY SAY.

Today is the official opening of Spring and the hotel clerk who went out early yesterday morning to watch the direction in which the crows were flying is authority for the statement that March is going out like a lamb, and with mint sauce, maybe, if the chef is agreeable.

Well, it's about time winter was over anyway is the belief of one Broadway merchant whose help threatened to strike on Saturday night when a gentle snowfall threatened. The time spent in clearing streets and walks of snow, the past winter is believed to have been record-breaking. A new disease developed in retail centers during the continuous snowfalls known as "snow-shoulder." Shovel-wielders pleaded lame backs by way of excuse for slow progress.

The buds on the trees are quite some distance behind the size noted in former years at this time, according to observers, who assert that the continuous cold weather has kept the buds back. But now that spring is officially here the passing of the snow will be only a question of time. Persons apprehensive of floods are taking some comfort in easy stages of the melting process under the restraining influence of these chill nights.

Honeymooning with war brides has been a popular indoor sport the past winter in many localities but no especially brilliant coups have been recorded in Kingston, according to the man in the lunch-wagon. Another resident tells a tale of a chance visit to the boom town of Hopewell, Virginia, by an Ulster county man who was prevailed upon to invest a matter of $5,000 in real estate. He held the property but one month when a telegram apprised him of the fact that a partner had accepted his acceptance of an offer of double the original price. Needless to say, he sold but his experience is said to be only one in many noted in that war boom township.

Curious Apache Belief. The Apache Indians' religious belief prevents them from committing murder in the dark. If a dozen Apaches should discover a man sleeping by his campfire at night no amount of money would hire them to attack him until the sun came up. They believe that if they kill a man at night their own souls will walk in eternal darkness forever. Knowing this curious superstition, hunters, scouts, trappers and others travel through the Apache nation in the old days moved about during the night and lay by in some safe retreat during the day.

Food For Thought. "I listened to your speech with the greatest care," said the constituent to the congressman.

"Well, I think there was food for thought in it," said the congressman. "You bet there was! It just made me think what a fool I had been to vote for you."

Very Necessary. "Is it absolutely necessary that your chamberlain accompany us tomorrow evening?"

"Yes, indeed. Auntie insists on going with us. She has never seen the show we are going to."—Detroit Free Press.

FUNSTON REPORT IS REASSURING

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, March 21.—Although a very lengthy report was received from General Funston today reviewing the general situation along the border its contents were withheld by the war department. It was stated that the dispatch gave no new details of the reported fighting between Villa and the Carranzista forces of General Canoy. Its general tenor, officials said, was of a reassuring nature.

The question of a general agreement with the de facto government which would set forth in exact terms under what circumstances the forces of the United States and Mexico shall operate against bandits in each other's territory was scheduled to be the chief topic of discussion at today's cabinet meeting. Acting Secretary Polk has recommended that some such arrangement be entered into inasmuch as it will prove of material assistance to Carranza in quieting the agitation against permitting the American expedition to remain on Mexican territory.

If the present plans are carried out the agreement will follow closely the lines of Secretary Lansing's telegram sent to General Carranza specifically setting forth that where bandits raids take place the troops of that nation whose territory is violated shall be permitted to pursue those responsible until they are exterminated.

Execution of such agreement, however, depends entirely on the position taken by the Carranzista forces now massed along the American border. So far these troops have made no trouble for the Americans but their attitude is generally described as "sullenly passive" and it is admitted that it would not take very much to stir up real trouble. That is the one thing that the state and war departments have been working to prevent. If present conditions can be maintained until after Villa actually is captured or killed, the Americans will be withdrawn in a hurry. But officials are fearful that this yet will prove impossible.

Although hoping for the best, officials have taken every contingency into account. At every point where there is a strong force of Mexican soldiers massed a corresponding force of Americans have been gathered and it is confidently asserted that any surprise attack at any point has been made impossible.

Carranza is being given his opportunity but the fact that he may fail is not being overlooked. Should he fail, then officials say that the United States must restore order by force and then establish a limited protectorate until a constitutional government can be installed, something that will closely follow the action taken in Cuba.

There is hardly a single official who questions the good faith of Carranza, but they place no trust in his ability to hold his troops. It is predicted by officials who know the general situation that if Villa is able to command a force for a month he will be acclaimed as a national hero. Desertions of Carranzista troops to his banner must follow.

Frequently Is That Way. When a man gets what he wanted he's lucky if he doesn't put in a lot of time wondering what he wanted with it.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, March 21.—The Epworth League of the Ellenville M. E. Church gave a St. Patrick's supper on Friday evening, March 17, which was well attended, as over two hundred people sat down to what was considered one of the best suppers yet given by any church society of this place. After enjoying the excellent menu, a short but interesting program was given. Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. John H. Divin and Mrs. E. B. Kimble. Speeches were made, applicable to the occasion, by H. Westlake Coons, Rev. W. H. Moser and Superintendent W. Floyd Harris, of the public schools. It is but fair to say that these gentlemen were at their best. We venture to say that the occasion was enjoyed by all present and the proceeds of the supper satisfactory, amounting to seventy dollars.

The concert, play and dance given by the Clayton Military Band on Friday evening, March 17, at Norbury Hall, was a success in every way. The play, "A Thousand for a Husband," was especially good and the concert given by the band previous to the play was without exception the best they have yet given, as each number was beautifully rendered.

The Woman's Club of Ellenville met on Monday afternoon, March 20, with Mrs. Ben M. Taylor, at her pleasant home on Center street. After the business of the meeting had been concluded, several excellent papers were read, among which were "Poets and Other Writers," by Mrs. George J. Hornbeck, and "Current Events," by Mrs. J. W. Rapp. The reading and discussion of these papers occupied some time, after which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. One new member was elected to a membership in the club, Mrs. Rollin W. Thompson.

The basketball team of the Ellenville high school held a banquet and dance at the Wayside Inn on Saturday evening, March 18.

Miss Bernice Gaskell entertained a skiing party at her home on Saturday evening.

We understand that the young people proceeded to Miss Gaskell's residence on skis, and after enjoying refreshments spent the evening very pleasantly with games and dancing.

Alfred Gaskell, who has been spending a few days in New York on business, returned home on Sunday evening.

Jansen Hornbeck and friend, Mr. Newbury, of New York, spent the week-end with Mr. Hornbeck's parents in this village. On Sunday, they paid a visit to Yama Farms Inn, where they were made welcome by the genial proprietor, Frank B. Seaman.

Dr. H. C. Derby, who has been suffering with an affliction of the eyes, goes to New York this week to consult a specialist in regard to them.

Dr. Derby is under the care of Dr. B. F. Neal of this village.

Mrs. W. H. White was pleasantly surprised on Monday afternoon by a large party of her friends.

The Order of Eastern Star gave a covered dish social at the Masonic rooms, on Canal street. After the ceremony of initiating a new member had been performed upon a candidate, the dishes were uncovered and a veritable feast enjoyed.

The funeral of Mrs. Bernard Flesler was held at St. Andrew's R. C. Church, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father Bamberg officiating. Interment was made in the Fantiuehill cemetery.

Lemuel DuBois had the misfortune to fall and break his arm near the shoulder. He is being cared for by Patrick Kelly of this place and will probably be laid up for some time.

We congratulate C. Howard Hornbeck on his appointment as postmaster of the Ellenville post office.

Mrs. William Walzenger of this place is visiting her uncle, Herman Walzenger, of Middletown, N. Y.

So long as we love we serve; so long as we are loved by others, I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

A PRINCESS' LOT

The Grand Duchess of Luxembourg Is Closely Guarded.

REPORTED TO BE ENGAGED.

Barely Twenty-one Years Old, the Youngest Ruler in Europe, Marie Adelaide Is Practically a Prisoner in Her Own Palace.

It is reported that the young Grand Duchess of Luxembourg will marry soon, but the name of the fortunate bridegroom to be is withheld.

Marie Adelaide is one of the most pathetic as well as one of the most romantic figures in the world today. This pretty young girl, barely twenty-one years old, was adored by her prosperous little country before the war broke out. Today she is practically a prisoner in her own palace. Unable to get out without a military escort and forced to look from her prison windows upon a people starving, terrified and forced to live upon charity, she has striven bravely to assert her rights and those of her people in the face of the overwhelming power of the German empire, but the struggle is naturally a hopeless one.

To complete her misery great pressure has been brought to bear upon her to marry a German prince, but this she has refused to do, as she bitterly resents the German invasion of her country. For more than a year the Kaiser's agents have worked hard to persuade the youngest ruler in Europe to become the bride of a German prince, the object being to insure the future control of Luxembourg. So strong did this pressure become that the spirited young Duchess revolted against it and, stamping her foot on the floor of her palace, exclaimed:

"I really must be left alone. If I cannot find peace in my own palace I shall soon be forced to seek it in a convent."

The grand duchess is the oldest of six sisters. Her family is a branch of the house of Orange, which rules in Holland. When Wilhelmina became queen of Holland she could not succeed to Luxembourg because of the Salic law. A cousin of Wilhelmina's became Grand Duke of Luxembourg. When he died in 1912, leaving only girl children, the Luxembourg parliament passed a new law making his daughters eligible to the throne.

Colors For Middle Age.

It is safe to say that few women of middle age can wear brown successfully. When the hair is turning white or gray it is particularly unbecoming, as the gray and brown do not harmonize in the least. Brown seems to bring out all the unbecoming yellow qualities in gray hair. Dark blue, on the other hand, lends it a bluish white tinge that is soft and particularly lovely. If your face is sallow never wear green. If, however, your hair is turning gray, but your skin is white and clear, with a soft pink flush in the cheeks, take to green kindly, as it will be most becoming. Lavender and purple are really beautiful on most middle-aged women, while black and gray are equally successful. White, however, seldom looks well unless the skin is almost flawless.

Cream of Beet Soup.

Materials: One cupful of beets well cooked, one pint of mutton stock, two teaspoonfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of butter, one pint of milk, salt and pepper.

Utensils: Two saucepans, fine sieve, spoon and cup.

Directions: Cut the beets fine and simmer in the mutton stock fifteen minutes. Rub through sieve. Mix the butter and flour and add to the mutton stock and beet puree. Heat thoroughly, stirring constantly, and add a pint of hot milk; season with salt and pepper.

Cinnamon Apples.

Core and wash six good sized tart apples. Mix together three rounding tablespoonfuls of sugar with one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Place the apples in a baking pan with three tablespoonfuls of water. Sprinkle over the prepared sugar and bake in a hot oven until tender. Serve hot or cold with thick, sweet cream.

"HEALTH FOODS"

NOW AT

ROSE'S 73 Franklin Street

We have taken the agency for the famous "Health Foods" of the Kellogg Food Company of Battle Creek, Mich. This is a line of diet foods well known to those who have been patients of the Battle Creek Sanitarium and already used by over 60 families in Kingston. While the products are especially useful among invalids, the foods are used nowadays among those who desire to maintain a conservative diet, and it was due to the demand for them here, that we were given the agency.

An expert demonstrator direct from the sanitarium will be at our store all of this week to sample and explain the peculiar virtues of these remarkable foods.

ALEXANDRE RIBOT.

RIBOT SEES END OF THE WAR.

Alexandre Ribot, French minister of finance, believes the end of the war is in sight. In a thrilling speech in the Chamber of Deputies in Paris, he said:

"We have reached the decisive hour. We can say without exaggeration, without illusion, and without vain optimism that we now see the end of this horrible war."

The speech of the minister of finance is taken as an expression of the government's confidence regarding the outcome of the battle of Verdun. A wave of optimism is sweeping France.

Coffee Facts

Read what the 19th edition United States Dispensatory (page 253), the guiding authority for chemists, druggists, and physicians, says about the drug, caffeine, of which there is about 2½ grains in the average cup of coffee:

"Given in large doses to the lower animals, caffeine produces hurried respiration, restlessness, slightly lowered, followed by a markedly elevated temperature, tetanic and clonic convulsions, progressive paralysis, and finally death from paralytic arrest of respiration."

Although man is stronger and more resistant, it is a well-known scientific fact that caffeine, in coffee, is a frequent cause of headache, nervousness, biliousness, heart flutter and many other ills.

Not at one large dose, but by little doses repeated regularly does this subtle, habit-forming drug get in its work, and, sooner or later, many coffee drinkers suffer.

Before that time comes, suppose you make a personal test—quit coffee ten days and use—

Made of wheat and a little wholesome molasses, this famous pure food-drink has a rich, snappy flavor much like that of mild, high-grade coffee, and it contains no drug or other harmful element.

He leaves to mourn his loss a faithful and loving wife, one daughter, Mrs. Christopher Ricks, and three sons, John, William and Edward of Peekskill. His funeral will be held at his late home Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Lynn was a faithful member of the Methodist Church, a kind and loving husband and father, and leaves behind an example of goodness we all would do well to emulate. Our community is growing barren as our butresses are fast passing away never again to be replaced, as what can be substituted for a landmark and the true, tried and faithful. We miss these old friends and can only hope their memory and example will be a stimulus to those bereft.

At a meeting of the congregation of the Reformed Church, held on Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Elvin Hutchings, elder, in place of Virgil Britt; Eugene Secor, elder, in place of John Monroe; Charles Neice, deacon, in place of Elvin Hutchings; and Charles DeGraff, re-elected as deacon.

Rev. Eugene A. Boonout, pastor of the Methodist Church, left today for Peekskill, where he will attend the New York Conference, which is now in session.

The large hotel near Rifton is being built by the owners, who are hiring workmen by the day. Therefore the statement that Mr. Vincent had the contract is an error, although Mr. Vincent is employed on the work.

CHINESE PUNISHMENTS.

Flogging is Common, and Rank Does Not Protect an Offender.

Chinese lawgivers are not troubled with any sentimental scruples on the subject of flogging. Even a criminal condemned to death is given a preliminary thrashing instead of, as with us, being treated with sympathy and consideration until the hour of doom. Another feature of Chinese justice, so far as the lash is concerned, is its strict impartiality.

Highborn offenders are flogged as readily as criminals of the lower order. The back of many a silken-robed dignitary has been scored with the leather thong of the whips wielded by sturdy Chinese officials, whose duty it has been to lay on the lash heartily regardless of the rank of the victim, on pain of being flogged themselves.

The Chinese legal code prescribes the lash for many offenses so trivial that in Europe they would be quite outside the scope of the law. Not all of the enactments are enforced nowadays, but we may quote two of them as quaint examples. Fifty lashes were ordered to be given to any merchant or tradesman offering for sale goods not of the quality they are represented to be, while self glorification is discouraged by a law that any military man who raises a monument to himself for deeds of heroism which he has never performed is to receive 100 lashes.—Pearson's Weekly.

HANGING PICTURES.

This is a Task That Should Produce Artistic Results.

In going over one's pictures eliminate all but the choicest and best beloved and try to group together the pictures whose subjects are somewhat related or which have a similarity in frames. Indeed, even when subjects are closely related it is not possible always to hang pictures together owing to a too great difference in the kind of frames. As a rule, any room looks better, especially small rooms, where only one color frame is used on all pictures, but if this is not possible then the next best thing is to keep all of the pictures in gilt frames in one part of the room, all of the dark framed pictures on another wall, etc.

Also one can get the best results by separating water colors and prints, and etchings or engravings should, of course, always be hung apart from other pictures. Another point frequently overlooked is the wisdom of putting the darker pictures on the wall that receives the best light from windows and contrariwise the gilt framed pictures of lighter subjects where they may serve to brighten a dark part of the room.

Finally do not crowd the walls. Hang pictures well in line with the eyes of a person of average height and, of course, choose plain walls, tinted or papered, for backgrounds.—Albany Argus.

Blowing Flowers. When amateurs speak of flowers "blowing" they are not using a more vulgarism. They are speaking real old English. In the early tongue the verb "blow" was used to indicate the opening of flowers. Instead of "blow" being a corruption of "bloom" it is the other way about. "Bloom" comes from the same root.

We do not grow the common apple nowadays, but our forefathers set great store by the sort and bought it eagerly in the streets from the "mongers."

From costard monger to confectioner is a short step. Hawthorn, too, has its interest. The old form of law was haw, which means hedge. Hawthorn is therefore simply hedge thorn.—London Graphic.

DAIRY and CREAMERY

FEEDING GRAIN TO COWS.

Liberal Nations For Dairy Animals Sure to Pay Profits.

The effect of feeding from 20 per cent to 50 per cent more grain than is needed to produce three or four pounds of milk would depend upon the milk the cow is giving, says Hoard's Dairyman. For instance, if a cow produces twenty-four pounds of milk daily, and her ration consists of seven or eight pounds of grain and this increased 50 per cent, it would mean an increase to eleven to twelve pounds of grain. There would be no injurious effects resulting to the average cow receiving this amount of grain. But, supposing the cow was giving sixty pounds of milk daily and she was being fed fifteen pounds of meal, increasing this from 20 per cent to 50 per cent might bring serious results. Experienced feeders hold that when a cow is receiving fifteen pounds of meal daily

The Guernsey breed was developed in the Channel Islands. The origin of the Guernsey breed is clouded in more or less mystery, but whatever may have been the origin, the breeding and development which it has received in America have produced a breed two cows of which have held world's records for butterfat production for one year. The bull pictured is a Guernsey.

any increase should be made very slowly and her condition watched closely.

We know of one very successful feeder who, as soon as he gets his animals to eating fifteen pounds of meal per day, increases this allowance one ounce per day until the maximum is reached, which very seldom is more than eighteen pounds. This he considers about the limit.

Experiment stations have done considerable work to determine the proper methods of feeding as well as the amount of grain that may be safely fed. Whether grain should be fed depends upon the price of butter fat, the character of the roughage and the kind of cows.

Let us take this example: Supposing there is an abundance of alfalfa hay worth $5 a ton and butter fat is worth 20 cents a pound and ground barley, corn or a feed that will supplement alfalfa hay well is worth $30 to $35 per ton. It is very questionable whether there is profit in feeding grain, even to a good cow, when a dairyman is confronted with a condition as outlined.

It may be generally said that very seldom is the price of fat and feed so far apart that it does not pay to feed some grain, especially when the cow is fresh, even though it does not give a direct return. It is the practice of some good dairymen to feed some grain for the first few months of a cow's lactation period, the purpose being to sustain a high milk flow for a longer period. From this standpoint we believe that there are very few instances when it does not pay to feed a cow some grain. In other words, invariably the man who is making money with his cows is feeding them liberally.

CLOVER BLOAT REMEDY.

Solution of Formalin Recommended by Kentucky Station.

The cause of and a remedy for clover bloat have been found by D. J. Healy and J. W. Nutter of the Kentucky agricultural experiment station. These facts are announced in circular No. 5, recently issued by the Kentucky station.

Red clover blossoms contain about 8.5 per cent of sugar, alfalfa blossoms 2.8 per cent, while clover blossoms 2.4 per cent. After being eaten by stock this sugar undergoes rapid fermentation and is converted into carbon dioxide. This causes the bloating.

The authors of the bulletin strongly recommend for acute bloating a quart of 1½ per cent solution of formalin. After this is administered a wooden block should be placed in the animal's mouth, and the animal should be given gentle exercise if it can be got on its feet.

Formalin is a trade name for a 40 per cent solution of formaldehyde gas in water and may be obtained at any drug store for about 40 cents a pint. Half an ounce of formalin in a quart of water is the proper solution with which to drench an animal.

Treat Cows Kindly.

A dairy cow requires to be and must be treated kindly. She will respond to no other kind of treatment. If she gets hungry and goes through the fence to get something to eat she does not fancy being chased by a pack of dogs, nor does she fancy being clubbed with the milk stool if she raises her foot to scave off a fly and makes a mistake and gets her foot in the milk pail. If you abuse her you can rest assured of one thing, and that is that she will tax the costs up against you by refusing to fill the pail.

PUSH AND PULL.

Push and pull are the comrades which unite to make National newspaper advertising campaigns successful.

The dealer who carries the goods puts his push behind the pull of the manufacturer's newspaper advertising.

Naturally, the goods move and manufacturers and retailers reap fine profits.

No other advertising gets the selling combination as forcefully as does advertising in the daily newspaper.

The newspaper is read by dealers and by consumer.

Its message is as forceful to those who sell the goods as it is to those who buy them.

MEXICAN BANDITS WIPE OUT A TOWN

By Telegram to The Freeman
Galveston, Tex., March 21.—The little town of Delicias in south western Coahuila, was wiped out by bandits last week, according to stories reaching the border today. It is said that more than twenty of the inhabitants were killed during the raid and that every house was burned after being robbed. Whether any Americans lost their lives in the raid is not known.

The stories describe that the raiders were remnants of defeated Carranza soldiers, in the state of Durango. All horses and cattle were driven off by the bandits. Several of the dead are women who protested against their homes being robbed. At the cathedral one of the priests was killed and the church was looted and burned, the stories allege.

BUFFALO STRIKE COMES TO AN END

By Telegram to The Freeman
Buffalo, March 21.—Eighty per cent of about 20,000 men who were obliged to give up their work as a result of the machinists strike which was declared here about two weeks ago, turned to work this morning. Fifty eight hundred men were affected at the plant of the Erie Motor Company and 80 per cent of them returned to their jobs.

The King Sewing Machine Company and the shops of the Erie Motor Co. were reopened and all but about twenty per cent of the employees reported. The plants mentioned shut down completely when the machinists strike was declared at the time it was said a majority of the men were opposed to the strike. At all of the plants the men have been making unusually good wages because of war orders. No trouble had been reported up to ten o'clock.

MILITARY TO RIGHT-ABOUT. Ye Composer Affected by Fashions in Feminine Preparedness.

In last night's Freeman a quarter column article on the coming fashion review at Van Wagenen's created a great deal of interest among the women of this community, who are just learning that it is not necessary to go to New York to see the latest approved modes.

Considerable wonderment was manifested today, however, in regard to certain "military dresses" that the article enumerated among the list of fashionable apparel to be shown. The reporter's copy read:

"military dresses," evidently in the belief that such styles would be quite fitting and proper at his stage of world history.

So The Freeman takes this opportunity of dispelling all thoughts of anything "military" in connection with this Van Wagenen's Style Review, and heralds in its stead most inviting displays of spring millinery and apparel for feminine preparedness.

Muller's orchestra will render a select program each day and it is expected that in the final arrangement of the decorations and displays, seats for at least five hundred visitors will be provided.

Following the excellent paper, an animated discussion on "Crime and Punishment" was set in motion by the membership committee. The club will meet again next week with Mrs. Kenyon.

Many Hear Song Recital.

The chapel of the First Dutch Church was filled on Monday evening with an audience anxious to hear the song recital to be given by Mrs. Margaret Raper of Passaic, N. J., the subject being "Englebert Humperdinck's opera, Hansel and Gretel." Mrs. Raper told how the opera originated as a poetical setting of the fairy tale of the same name, written by Hans Anderson, and poetically arranged by a sister of Humperdinck for her children. So deftly did Humperdinck set the poem to music, that his friends persuaded him to rearrange it once more as opera, which was done. Being a great admirer of Wagner, he followed the Wagnerian operatic idea of presenting personages, situations and circumstances by means of musical motifs. Mrs. Raper recited much of the opera in a most realistic manner, incidentally describing the stage effects. The more noted songs of the opera she also sang. Mr. Dodge accompanying her at the piano. Mr. Dodge also played the orchestral parts of the opera, adding greatly to the pleasure of the evening as his playing always artistic and finished.

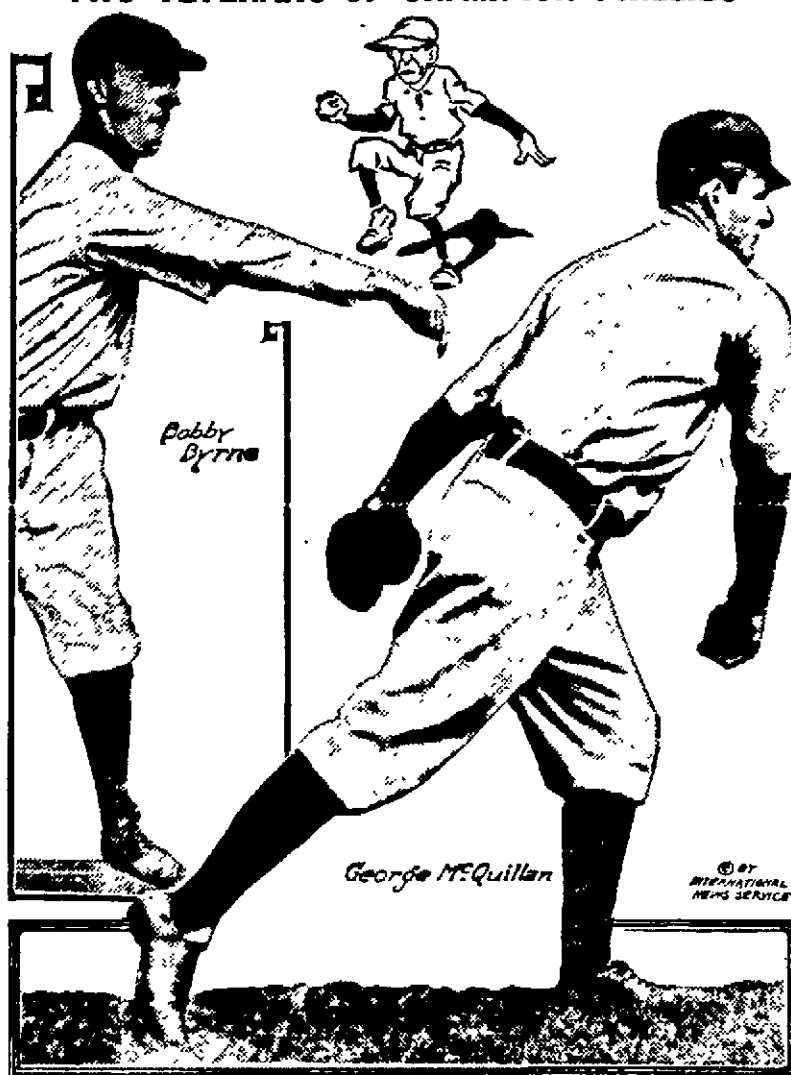

Sois-kunishade Club.

The Sois-kunishade Club held a well attended and enthusiastic meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry S. Plunkett on Bruyn avenue on Monday. The roll call was on "The Benefit of the Public Library," and the discussion brought out advantages to be gained through a public library, also the assistance that might be given the library through the gift of new books. Mrs. Plunkett had the paper for the day her subject being, "Elizabeth Stuart Phelps." She gave an excellent presentation of the life and works of this gifted woman, who was born in Boston, at the time when Unitarianism and Transcendentalism held sway. With ancestors of such conservatism that they believed any other vocation for women than home keeping was not only improper, but almost an evidence of witchcraft, it took courage as well as talent, for a young girl to write for publication. At sixteen years of age her first article appeared in the Atlantic Monthly, and later she wrote for the Youth's Companion and Harper's. Her best known books were "Gates Ajar," and "Belong to the Gates." However, from a literary standpoint, many of her short stories are far superior to her books, especially her stories for children. Mrs. Styles had a short paper on "The American Stage." She contrasted the actors, the plays and the salaries of a century ago, with those of today. The prominence of the moving picture plays now so popular on the stage, was considered, and the time, labor and money necessary to produce and present the films was interestingly described. Next week the club will meet with Mrs. William J. Cranston at her home, No. 175 Clinton avenue.

Optimistic Thought.

It is better to have an open enemy than an insincere friend.

TWO VETERANS OF CHAMPION PHILLIES

Pie Way.

ment made at New Haven. Way played one season with the Norwich university team before he entered Yale.

The loss of Way, who was considered the mainstay of the nine since the five men who played ball at Quogue were disqualified, will be keenly felt by the team. The only veteran pitchers left now are Watrous and Underwood left handers, who have never yet had much experience in the big games. Way had been rated as the best pitcher on the varsity squad, having played in practically all the championship games.

Indians Get Guy Chamberlain.

Guy Chamberlain, who is regarded as one of the greatest football players ever developed at Nebraska university, has signed a contract with the Indianapolis American association club. Chamberlain is a left-handed pitcher, who had considerable success with the Nebraska team.

Stovall Paid in Full.

WALSH WAS GREAT TWIRLER

Presence in Warming-Up Pasture Would Cause Opposing Team to Let Up in Hard Hitting.

"You may call it psychology or whatever you want," remarked Manager Jim Callahan of the Pirates the other day, "but I have seen the very act of Ed Walsh going out to warm up, to relieve another pitcher, make the opposing club let up in their hard hitting."

Ed Walsh.

Walsh could go in cold, if he wanted to, and he was the greatest man I ever saw at going in and checking rallies. He was so noted for this that time and again, with another pitcher getting touched up, his presence in the warming-up pasture seemed to turn the tide and he would not be needed."

Boston Braves Insured.

The Boston Nationals has just been insured for a total of $500,000 against accident of any nature, except such as may occur on the baseball field. The policy is a blanket agreement, covering every member of the team. It is understood that, in addition, several of the more important players are insured individually against accident of any kind.

Bowling Tourney at Duluth.

Duluth will hold the 1917 bowling tourney of the International association.

All feeble minds and all dillettant want, first of all, definitions in matters that are not subjects of deductive thinking. The Roman jurists, the greatest the world has ever seen, taught us to beware of definitions.

AMERICAN & CARRANZISTA SOLDIERS AT BORDER LINE. (KINIL-FILM SERIES)

AMERICAN TROOPERS AND CARRANZISTAS MEET ON THE BORDER.

The picture shows American soldiers and Carranzista troops fraternizing on the international border near Columbus, N. M., just before the American troops crossed the border and began the march to capture Villa.

LOADING SUPPLIES FOR THE MARCH INTO MEXICO. (KINIL-FILM SERIES)

MAKING READY FOR THE MARCH INTO MEXICO.

Men of the Sixteenth Infantry are shown here loading supply trains to be moved across the border. On account of the barren territory and the unfriendliness of many Mexicans, the United States punitive expedition is pursuant of Villa and his followers will be forced to depend almost entirely upon supplies and even water washed from the United States. Very little farming has been done in the territory where Villa has taken refuge, and foraging parties will not be able to even buy enough food for their own sustenance.

READING THE HAND.

Most Murderers, It Is Said, Show Their Characters in Their Palms.

A French savant contends that the murderer has a distinctive hand. His face may not be hideous, but his hands are and are self-condemnatory. Evidence on the latter characteristic is scanty and rests upon the investigations of the French criminologists, but, as to the former, it is a fact that some of the most brutal murders on record have been perpetrated by men whose countenances habitually wore a very mild expression.

Deeming was a pleasant man to speak to until crossed, but some of the authorities who examined his hands declare his broad thumb indicated the born murderer.

The true ball-headed thumb gives to the first phalanx a round, bulbous appearance. It is short, and the nail is so abbreviated as to suggest that it has been gnawed. It is embedded in the flesh, which rises on either side and beyond it.

Dumoullard, a wholesale murderer, had a hand remarkable for its thickness and length of palm in proportion to the fingers. He had a significant sign common to most murderers—namely, almost entire absence of lines in the palm. Save the three principal ones—the lines of life, head and heart. These lines were very strongly defined. The line of the head—the center line extending across the palm—was violently cut by the line of life running upward from the wrist. Chirumany interprets this to foretell a violent death. His fingers were knotty and uneven at the nail phalanges.—Nebraska Lexni News.

THE ART OF NORWAY.

It Reflects the Early Peasant and the National Character.

Long before the art of painting was practiced in Norway the Norwegian peasant, like his Magyar contemporary, had developed an art that was and still remains thoroughly national. The Norwegian peasant art, like that of other countries, is characterized by a primitive purity of color that anticipates the art of today and forms, so to speak, a connecting link that ties the present to the past. If we remember the crude vigor and bold color of this early peasant art we shall perhaps better understand contemporary Norwegian art.

Temperamentally they are the same. We find in both the same characteristics—forthrightness of expression, the same bold, uncompromising design and color. Moreover, both are alike in that the aim of each is to fill a given space with a design that will form a decoration. Much of modern art is in this direction, and contemporary Norwegian art is no exception to this.

If this art appears somewhat rough and crude, more forceful and original than polished and intricate, it is the fault of the national character rather than of the art itself. We are not a suave people; we are somewhat blunt and direct, and these racial qualities are expressing themselves more and more in our art as it gradually emancipates itself from foreign influences and returns to its basic character.—J. Nilsen Laorvik in Century.

Servian Superstitions.

The daily life of the Servian is full of superstition. He is superstitious about the manner in which he rises in the morning, about what first meets his sight, how he dresses and washes and whom he meets of what food he eats and the time and manner of serving throughout the entire day. Attention is also paid to whether the cocks crow in time, whether dogs bark much, if frogs croak or the wind blows. Again special notice is taken of the kind of rain that falls, thunder, how stars shine, if the moon has a halo, if it shines through a cloud, etc. The "evil eye" is alone accountable for disease and death. The Servian believes that for each malady that flesh is heir to God has given a remedy. He believes that for each pain there is a healing herb. He believes in witches—beautiful young maidens who come forth from the dew and are nourished in a mysterious mountain. They meet in the branches of trees and are most dangerous at supper time.

Asking Questions.

The first character of right childhood is that it is modest. A well bred child does not think it can teach its parents or that it knows everything. It may think its father and mother know everything, perhaps that all grown people know everything, very certainly it is sure that it does not. And it is always asking questions and wanting to know more. Well, that is the first character of a good and wise man at his work. To know that he knows very little; to perceive that there are many above him wiser than he, and to be always asking questions, wanting to learn, not to teach. No one ever teaches well who wants to teach or governs well who wants to govern. It is an old saying (Plato's), but I know not if his first, and as wise as old—From "A Crown of Wild Olives," by John Ruskin.

Precocious Mozart.

At three years of age Mozart would amuse himself for hours together in picking out thirds on the piano with his wonderful ear. At four years he learned minuets and before six played some of his own compositions, actually starting on a concert tour with his sister at that age. Before three years had elapsed he had taken by storm four of the most important capitals in Europe—Vienna, The Hague, Paris and London. His reputation as a composer was established by the time he was only ten years old. Mozart fulfilled in maturity the promise of his early years, but at the age of thirty-five passed away, ensnared on a requiem which he gradually learned was to be his himself.

India's Telegraph Plant.

There are many strange species in the vegetable world, and among some of the queerest may be mentioned what is called the telegraph plant. This plant hails from India, and each of its large leaves is composed of three portions. During the day the largest one stretches out toward the sun, so as to catch the full warmth and brightness, but when night comes on the big leaf turns down, while each of the small petals works day and night, moving, as it were, independently. They describe in somewhat jerky movements, complete circles, thus deriving their name.

Her One Failing.

Frank was an ardent lover and, like most lovers, was of a rather jealous disposition. He was always worrying Ellen with silly questions, most of which she answered patiently. The other day he reached the limit, however, when he asked: "Why are you so sure that you will always love me just as much as you do now?" Ellen thought it time to alter her treatment of his one fault. "Because," she answered gently, "I am never able to cure myself of any of my bad habits."—London Answers.

Qualified.

Tommy, with a determined look on his face, marched into the parlor and up to his pretty sister's ardent sister. "What's them?" he demanded, thrusting out a grimy hand full of small white objects. "Beans," promptly replied the young man, with an ingratiating smile. "He does know 'em, maw," bawled Tommy triumphantly to the adjoining room. "You said he didn't!"—Puck.

And None Alike.

"There are three kinds of switch tenders." "Count 'em off." "There's the man at the railroad crossing, the woman at the telephone office and the woman who wears false hair."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Asiatic Turkey.

Asiatic Turkey had a civilization thousands of years ago. The interior of that country is populated today by farmers to whom modern knives and forks are unknown. The spoons they use are of wood, and each family makes its own.

Addition.

"Now, Robert," said his teacher, "your mother gave you two apples and your brother gave you three more how many would you have?" "I'd have two good apples and three wormy ones," was Robert's prompt reply.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

KINGSTON LOST PATERSON GAME

The first game of the championship series between Kingston, N. Y., and Paterson, N. J., winners of the first and second halves of the Interstate Basketball League tournament, respectively, was staged at Paterson on last Saturday evening before an attendance that more than taxed the capacity of the Silk City armory.

Paterson triumphed in the last half minute of play as a result of Swenson dropping in a foul from the fifteen foot mark. The final score was 23-22 and the game was replete with the most sensational long shots seen this year. The shooting of Henschel of Kingston was phenomenal. Out of seven tries he scored five times from way past the center of the floor. It was principally due to his good work that Kingston had a lead in the first half, the score at ending being 17-11.

The homesters switched their lineup and inserted Beckman in place of Clinton in the second half and succeeded in catching up to the visitors before three minutes had passed. From then the score was pretty nearly even until the final minute when it was tied at 22 all, at which time Swenson scored his foul and the game was practically over.

On Thursday March 23rd, at the Jersey City armory, the second game of the series will be played, and accommodations have been reserved for a still large turnout than witnessed the exciting battle on last Saturday.

New York, March 21.—Stocks were in brisk demand at the opening with an absence of pressure which marked the trading all through yesterday's operations. Extensive gains were made in many stocks with the specialties ranging in the first few minutes 3 to 4 points above yesterday's close. Mexican Petroleum gained 3 1/2 to 111. Industrial Alcohol advanced 4 points to 153 and Crucible Steel, American Zinc and Marine preferred showed gains of around 2 points. Advances of more than a point were made in many of the standard issues including Steel Common. The last named stock sold at 85 1/2, a gain of 1 1/2 but a supply appeared causing a quick recession to 84 1/2. American Zinc dropped from 88 1/2 to 85 1/2 on this reaction and Industrial Alcohol dropped to 157. Marine Preferred reacted to 73. Similar advances and recessions were noted in nearly all the stocks in which there were active dealings.

Price movements were irregular in the late forenoon, some issues being offered in large blocks at concessions, while others were in fairly good demand at slightly higher prices. Tennessee Copper dropped 2 points to 54 and Rock Island a point to 16 1/2. Chesapeake and Ohio declined from 64 1/2 to 63 1/2. Butte and Superior was strong, advancing 2 points to 59 1/2. Mexican Petroleum sold at 109 1/2, Crucible at 91 1/2, and Baldwin at 107 1/2. Steel Common held steady around 84 1/2. Many of the war order issues fluctuated sharply. Money lending 2 per cent.

Heavy selling was again in evidence in the late afternoon. The war order issues showed renewed weakness, Crucible Steel dropping to 89 1/2, Baldwin to 106, Industrial Alcohol to 155, and Studebaker yielded 2 points to 141. Third Avenue was strong, however, advancing 1 1/2 to 63.

The market closed weak. A wave of selling took place in the last hour when many industrials yielded over 2 points. Fractional losses were sustained in steel common and other standard issues. Crucible and Studebaker were the weakest features. Third Avenue was exceptionally firm. Government bonds unchanged; others irregular.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

(Jim Gilmore wonders if the Baltimore folks are "sore" at him—News Item.)

Jim to Baltimore.

I'm wondering if you love me
In dear old Baltimore,
Do you think of me with kindness
Or are you awfully sore?

Baltimore to Jim.

Oh, yes, dear Jimmy, we love you,
Like Belgium loves Wilhelm.
Come back to Maryland, Jimmy,
Come back just once again.
A welcome awaits you, Jimmy,
A heated one—don't fret.
We'll give you a hot reception,
One that you'll never forget.

Gilmore and Baltimore.

As you'll notice from the above, the Baltimoreans would like to have Jim Gilmore drop around some day—the sooner the better. They're anxious to see again the leader of the deceased Feds—far more anxious, it seems, than Gilmore is to see them.

When peace negotiations were entered into, the Baltimore Feds were left out in the cold. Other magnates in the "outlaw" circuit were taken care of, but the Baltimore people got what is classed as "the rawest deal in baseball history."

Gilmore never has explained satisfactorily to the backers of the Baltimore club—or the public at large—just why Baltimore was "dumped." The Gilmore action in this respect ever will remain a mystery.

Actions Belied Words.

"If peace ever comes, every club in the Federal League must be taken care of—or there will be no deal."

That's what Gilmore used to say in war-time days. He made it emphatic time and again that no part of any kind ever would be made unless all the Feds shared in its benefits.

But when peace came, with Gilmore engineering the proceedings for the Feds, the $300,000 investment of the Baltimoreans in a Federal franchise was utterly disregarded. The Marylanders pleaded with Gilmore to protect their interests—to fulfill his promise that "all will be taken care of when peace comes." But Gilmore didn't.

It's just about time for Gilmore to make some explanations regarding that Baltimore angle. The situation demands it. Gilmore saw to it that the interests of practically all the other club owners were protected. Why did he permit the freezing out of Baltimore?

Gilmore Should Explain.

The Baltimore folks had something like $150,000 tied up in their ball park. When peace came, and their league ceased to exist, the park no longer was of any use to them. What happened? They were forced to sell it for $25,000 to Jack Dunn, owner of the International team in that town.

The price was ridiculously low in comparison with the actual cost of the park. But the Feds had to accept Dunn's offer—or have the park remain a taxation burden. Dunn was the only possible customer.

At least that Gilmore might have done during the negotiations was to insure Baltimore getting a fair price for its ball yard.

As was the case in other cities, the war ended with the Baltimore club having under contract many good ball players. Did Gilmore pave the way for the Baltimore folks to sell their players at a reasonable price? "No!" asserted the Baltimoreans. Gilmore, it seems, was so busy fixing up nice deals for the Vards, of Brooklyn, Ball, of St. Louis, Weeghman of Chicago, and the others that he had no time left in which to use his persuasive tongue in behalf of Baltimore.

Jim Gilmore ought to come out of seclusion long enough to explain—or attempt to explain—some of the charges that have been made against him as the result of the so-called "throwing" of Baltimore.

KINGSTON GIRLS WIN IN CATSKILL

"A delightful program was enjoyed after which tea was served," would be an appropriate description of the basketball game which the Girls' Varsity Five of the Kingston high school and the Catskill high school girls played at Catskill Saturday afternoon and which finally developed into a 42 to 0 score, with Catskill in possession of the goose egg. This was the fourteenth consecutive victory for the girls and the "softest" contest in which the damsels have yet participated. It was more on the lines of an everyday practice affair and the whole thing was a matter of disgust to the home lassies although the big score will go on their record for the season and help swell the large number of points thus far tallied by them.

Far be it from the Catskill females to anger over the result. They unconcernedly let the Kingstonians trample their colors in the dust and treated the visitors as if they were guests at a thimble party, entertaining them after the game and gamely consenting to play a return contest in this city in a few weeks. The first half of the game, which was played in the Catskill Y. M. C. A., ended with the count, 13 to 0, but in the last session the locals proceeded to enliven matters and scooped the ball in the nets with little trouble.

Miss Safford, bright twinkler in the basketball heavens, was again "old faithful" on the firing line and netted a neat total of 29 points for the afternoon's enjoyment. Athletics Weber and Herdman, the right forwards, took care of the other points scored. The girls' rules by which the contest was played prevented scoring by the guards and center. The score:

Webster's Team Won.

Webster's bowling team downed Wood's team by 21 pins in the ninth game of the series last night on the Y. M. C. A. alleys, making the standing of the two factions 5 to 4, with Webster's five in the lead. Both teams were well represented and the only bowlers showing form were Wood and Thompson. Captain Wood of the losers was a shade better than Thompson in the total number of pins bowled but both were neck and neck in the highest single game, each gathering a pinning of 213 in the first round. The next contest will determine who shall provide the eats, because it is the misfortune of the loser to treat the winners to a dinner at the close of the series, according to the regulations which the two clans drew up before the contest. If the ten-game series ends in a tie, another game will be staged to decide which aggregation is better. Wood's followers are now commencing to lose sleep nights while their opponents are comfortably reposing with the thought of their one game lead in mind. The score:

GLASCO.

He may rest assured, however, that he has the best wishes of his congregation and friends in Glasco for the future success of his ministry, and the contentment and happiness of himself and Mrs. Cole. L. S. Hommel, delegate to the Laymen's Conference, will leave on Thursday.

Burdick, in the far distant mission field of Seoul, Korea, who is engaged in teaching in mission schools and is also a local preacher, acknowledging with thanks the receipt of cash remittances which was sorely needed in supporting the schools, and greatly appreciated. It gives an interesting account of the arduous duties and self-denying labor of missionary work, at the same time conveying a spirit of cheer and encouragement over results that are convincing to any one that contributions in behalf of foreign missions are a good safe investment, like "bread cast upon the waters."
